We are the result of 101 years of dreams:

The dreams of a greater Port Huron
High School,
Of a citadel for achieving, growing, acquiring skills,
Of a retreat for relaxing, for anticipating
The 101st year of PHHS,
Our school year.

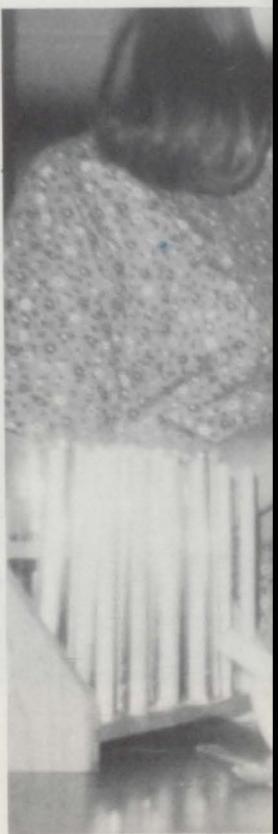

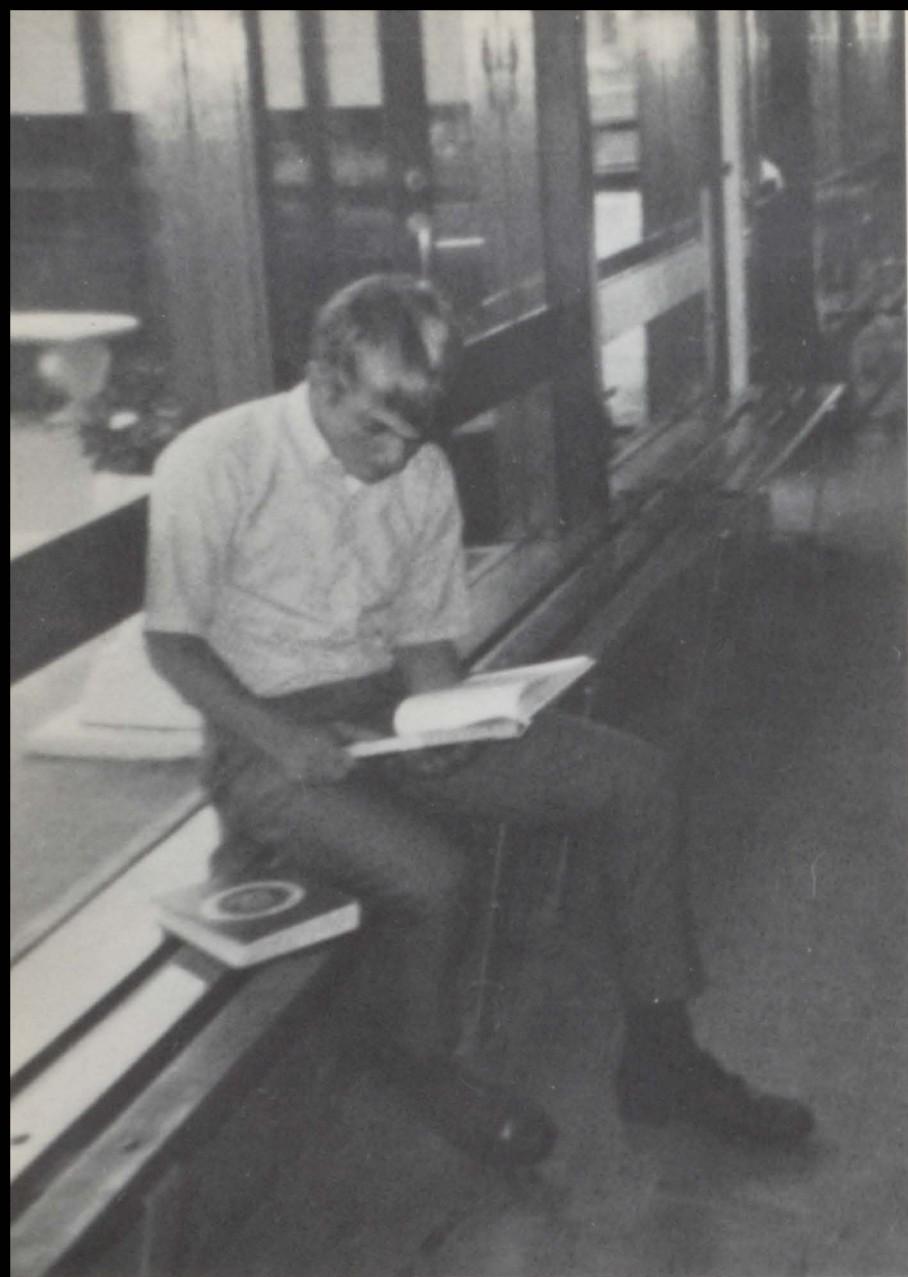

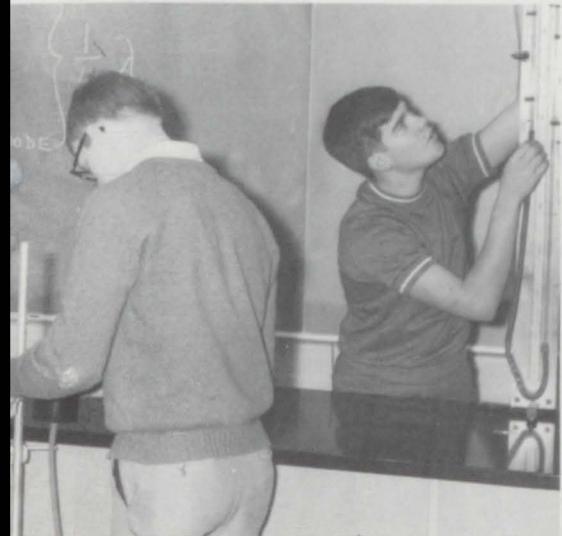

The dreams of growth,
Of our Big Red Spirit growing
with each additional year,
Of fulfilling to a prosperous community our heritage of service,
Of seeing the start of our
second one-hundred years,
Of a deep search for the future reflected by our school year.

The dreams of achievement,
Of prideful accomplishments from score-
board to slide rule,
Of test tube discoveries,
Of term papers and tests finally finished ,
Of assemblies and awards, our school year rapidly passing by .

The dreams of anticipation,
Of cheering for a Big Red victory,
Of holding hands at Homecoming,
Of a whisper in study hall almost detected,
Of laughter and learning at our Port Huron High School.

But soon these dreams will be yesterday's,
Time is moving on,
And so must we.
Yesterday's dreams are soon forgotten.
Whether fulfilled,
Or unfinished,
They are gone.
There is no time now for yesterday's dreams:
Yesterday is gone, and Tomorrow waits . . .

ACTIVITIES

The action of a wild, wonderful Homecoming,

The fervor of a school election,

The thundering applause after a longed-for victory,

The things that make one laugh and smile and cry,—

These are the dreams of participation at Port Huron High . . .

Homecoming-Queen and Seniors

Smiling Laurie Sanders, a Senior, is a member of National Honor Society, Pep Club, Ski Club, and Theta Alpha Mu Charity League. Such hobbies as skiing, swimming, and sewing also keep her busy.

Senior Diane Cudlip, often seen busy behind the office switchboard, is Captain of the Cheerleaders as well as being a member of Pep Club, Ski Club, Omicron Tau Alpha, Tri-Hi-Y, and Steering Committee.

At the left stands our queen Sue Niebauer. Sue is a member of the yearbook staff, is Secretary of Pep Club, Treasurer of Theta Alpha Mu Charity League, a Varsity Cheerleader, and a member of the Honors Band. ABOVE: Mr. Wydrzynski crowns Sue during half-time.

SALLY SCHRODER, FRESHMEN Class. Sally is a student council representative and active in G.A.A., gymnastics, and tennis.

CHRIS GRAFAS, JUNIOR Class. Chris, a T.A.M. Charity League member, also serves on the Junior Class Steering Committee.

GAIL WILLIAMS, SOPHOMORE Class. Gail, a member of the Sophomore Class Steering Committee, also serves as Secretary of the Class of '71.

Court

MARSHA FALK, JUNIOR Class. Marsha is President of the Junior Class, and active in Ski Club and Young Republicans.

JANET RAVIN, FRESHMEN Class. Janet is an active member on the Freshmen Class Steering Committee.

"Paddle the Bathers Sternly", the Senior float, wins first place honors for the second consecutive year.

The Junior Class fire engine, entitled "Put Em Out", takes second place.

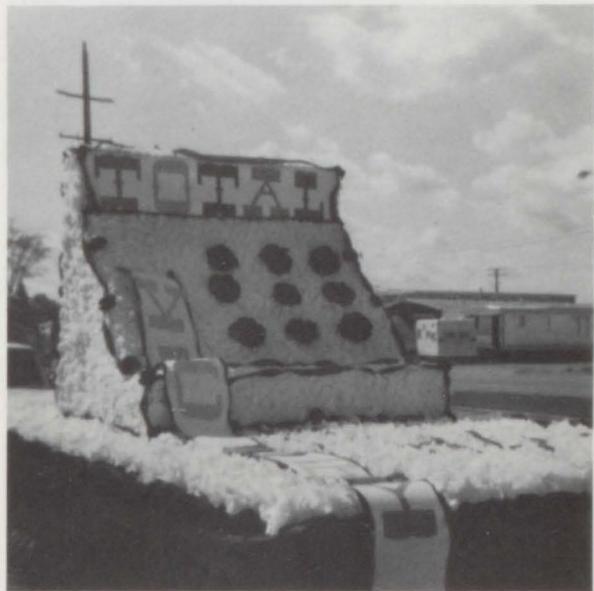

Fourth place is held by the Sophomore's float, "Stamp Em Out, Send Em Home".

1968 floats highlight spirit

"3-5-7-9 we're the class of '69"! "9-7-5-3 we're the class of '70"! These were the battle cries which vibrated with the rival spirit between the Seniors and Juniors. Finally, the cheers subsided for the announcements of the class and club float winners.

Organization, theme, originality, and general appearance--these were goals which each class strived to achieve. Week after week they worked with pride in their hearts and laughter in their voices, each seeking to outdo the other. And then the day of expectations arrived. "First place, the Seniors". A cry of happiness rose above the crowd. Then low whispers followed before Law Club yelled out the cheer for their first place float. The Juniors had taken second, the Freshman third, and the Sophomores last.

The crowd divided into chattering groups and the attention turned to the game that night, leaving the parade of that afternoon, September 27, part of yesterday's hopes and tomorrow's memories.

Parliamentary Law Club places first in the club competition with their float entitled "Total Victory".

"Bury the Bathers" steals third place for the Freshmen.

Here a mad tackle is made while the Mt. Clemens crowd anxiously looks on.

Port Huron rises to the lines, chattering and applauding with approval. Coach Maul, on the far left, devotes his attention to where the team is going without looking where he is going.

Senior Greg Bell, a member of "C. C. Thomas and the Yellow Case", sings to the music of the guitars and the beat of the drums at the dance following the game.

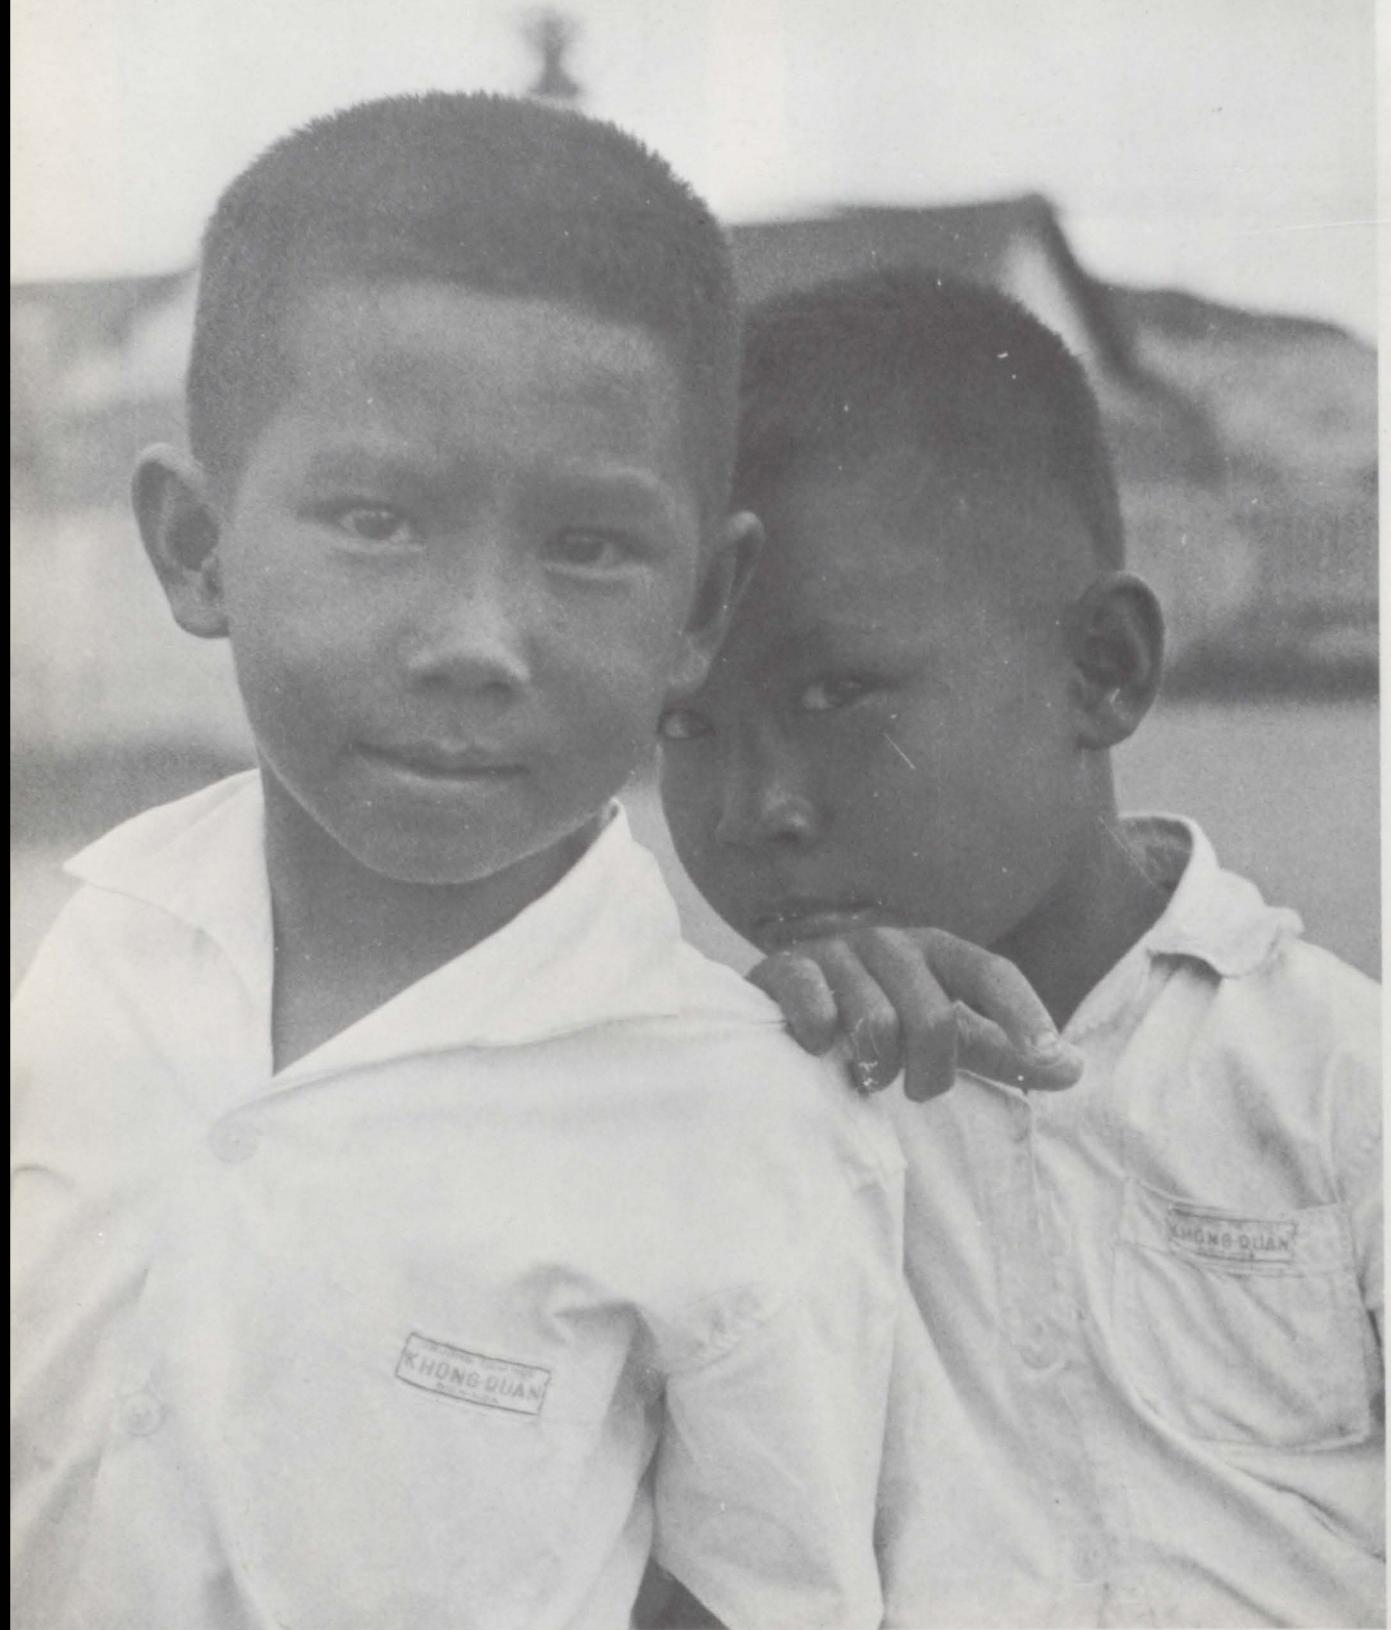

Diane Zmolic and Cindy Durette are on the move at the Homecoming dance.

Clock ticks away second hundred years

Time flew and then September 27 was over. We were filled with disappointment as we cheered for a touchdown and only Mt. Clemens obeyed. Then half time began with the parade and an air of pompous festivity drifted through the stands. Screams of approval followed the crowning of Sue Niebauer as queen. With the second half of the game came mounting tension. It was the end of the fourth quarter before we broke the 13--0 score and ended the game with a 13--7 win for Mt. Clemens. Despite the loss, a spirited crowd attended the dance entitled "Melody for a Queen", held in the gym until 1:00 A.M. It bounced to the music of "C. C. Thomas and the Yellow Case".

The Homecoming dance entertains students from three high schools and St. Clair County Community College.

Touch of oriental beauty: "68" J-Hop

Construction time wasn't all work. Some people found a little time to rest their tired bodies.

"Song of the Orient" was the romantic theme used for the Class of 69's J-Hop. The Steering Committee and other members of the class worked hard to transform the simple gymnasium into a lovely, serene, oriental setting.

The gymnasium was decorated with painted murals on the walls, a false ceiling of streamers, Japanese lanterns, and a pagoda in which the band played. A tea house for refreshments was also made in the upper quarter of the gym.

With all of the fine decorations and the large attendance at the dance, May 10th, 1968, was a night to remember for all who attended.

This J-Hop could never have been possible if it hadn't been for the many students and faculty who worked with determination to make the class of 69's J-Hop a success.

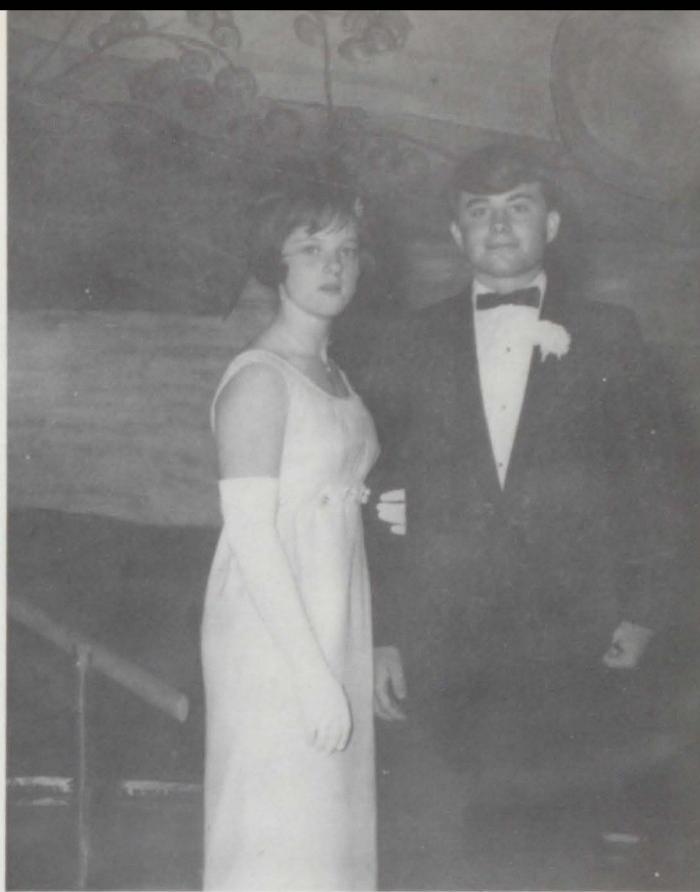

Pop music could be heard softly flowing through the oriental setting of the Class of 69's J-Hop. The "Words" band added this touch to make the dance a success.

Marty Lester, the Class of '68 Senior President was presented with a lovely Centennial cake, given in honor of the Seniors, the 100th class to graduate from Port Huron High School.

Take a look at the J-Hop that was! See the oriental scenery which was created by the Class of '69. Notice the real pond full of water which served as a home for a few shiny goldfish. There were also two small bridges crossing the ponds which added to the air of romance.

As Robby Frasier escorted Sue Schwenk around the oriental setting, they were both amazed at the romantic atmosphere, the bright and happy faces and the beauty that was created by the Class of '69.

today trying harder

First Semester Student Council had a lot to get going. They had freshmen orientation to help with; they also had to get the school rules swinging into orbit.

The President, Steve Studer, was out trying to get the best possible things for the '68-'69 school year. The Council had to work fast to get the ball rolling so that everything would be set for Homecoming. They certainly made it a success.

That capable Council also had to start the canned food drive into action. They were interested in seeing our school do the best job possible to help needy families at Christmas time.

First Semester Student Council had the pep and enthusiasm to get things started so that Second Semester would have to try harder to equal their record.

meet challenges

Second Semester Student Council's first project was to learn about the proposed millage so the student body could be informed.

Their next project was the annual magazine sale with Mr. Shields. Remember the morning announcements with Bill Lewis and Dave Hrisca trying to get everyone to sell?

Second Semester Student Council brought about a few valuable changes such as giving the Student Council reports over the public address system.

So to sum it up, they did try harder and maybe they will have left some incentive for next year's Council.

Second Semester Student Council's officers: Don Portis, President, and Diane Palmateer, Vice President.

ACADEMICS

The continuing flow of books, straightedges, slide rules, and microscopes,

The insect collections and bubbling test tubes,

The endless search for elusive answers,

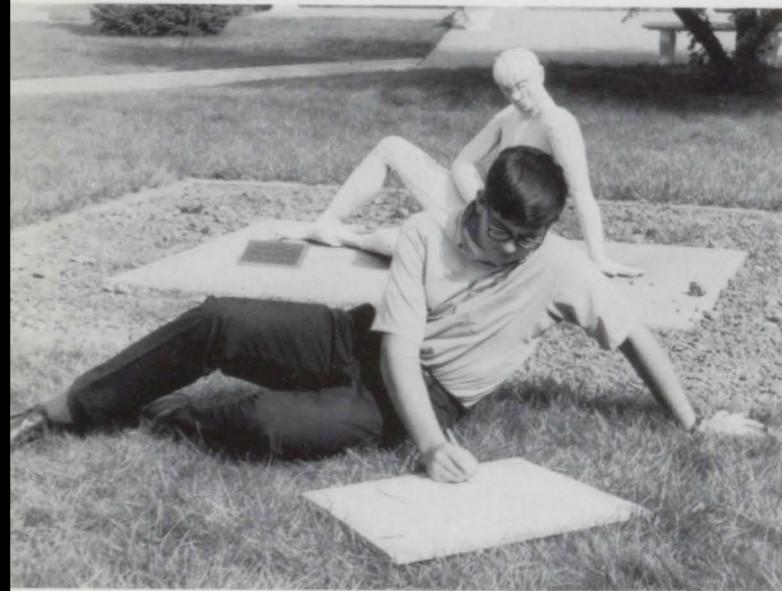

To teach and be taught,—

These are the dreams of knowledge, a mind sensitive and inquisitive . . .

Art classes add bits of spice to

As a happy victim of spring fever, Patti Dunlap can't help but prefer the school lawn to a stuffy classroom. She takes advantage of spring scenery and seventy degree weather.

As Frank Bauer, first year art student, concentrates on his sketching of the school, little does he know . . .

Concentrating on the courts of PHHS and transferring them to paper takes practice.

daily student life

Sketching, pottery, and printmaking were taught by the one and only member of the Art Department, Mrs. McPharlin. First and second year students were introduced to several different media, and third and fourth year students worked on their own. A girl's head made of clay, an acrelic landscape and a weed pot were some of their projects.

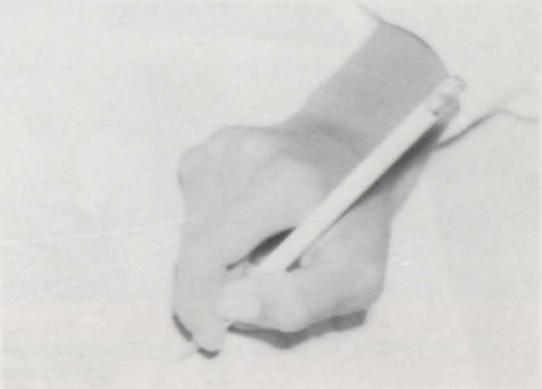

A visit to the Flint Artists' Show, last spring, served as inspiration for our art students. A bus load of students also visited the Detroit Art Institute last fall. There was never a dull moment in Art Class last year.

Dave Buffington adds a little more character to his newly created sculpture during his fourth hour art class.

"Finished" sighs Judy McClain, after long weeks of hard work.

Uncle Art, P.H. dance band join forces

Belonging to the band happened in stages. Freshmen elected Cadet Band. Open to tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade band students was Varsity Band. Honors Band was a selective group of outstanding Varsity Band members.

Other P.H. bands included Marching Band, which played at football games, Pep Band, which played during the basketball season, and the Stage Band, which played at Uncle Art's pancake supper and joined the other bands for the Annual Spring Concert.

Where's the champagne and bubbles, Mr. Paton?

Cadet Band is where one goes from squeak to music in a short time.

The technical world:

Terry McMillan and her classmates take a class period out to answer questions in office practice.

Joe Jehl works intently on a typing assignment.

"Oh, I'm looking at the key board again!" exclaims Diane Palmateer.

Business Education

Business Education covered a wide field of subjects. Courses offered this year were typing, personal typing, bookkeeping, record keeping, shorthand, office machines, and general business.

New to the department this year were Mr. Crumback, Mr. Winters, Miss Miller, and Mrs. Blake. To advance the accuracy of the students as quickly as possible was the teachers main objective. Speed and accuracy played a big part in the Business Department. Each student was really on his own to practice as much as possible outside of class. The old saying "practice makes perfect" could really be applied here.

Mr. Winters explains a business problem to his general business class.

A-S-D-F- J-K-L-; This is the theme as we look in on a personal typing class. Students work hard at that seemingly impossible goal of thirty words a minute.

Raise up your voices now and sing

Vocal Music, as other departments, was divided into sections. The first section, for beginning singers, was Festival Choir. From then on, students were taken into A Capella Choir, the best known one with the most people in it, that often sings in assemblies as well as into another choral group, Girls Glee Club.

Students were placed in these groups according to their ability to read music and their voice quality.

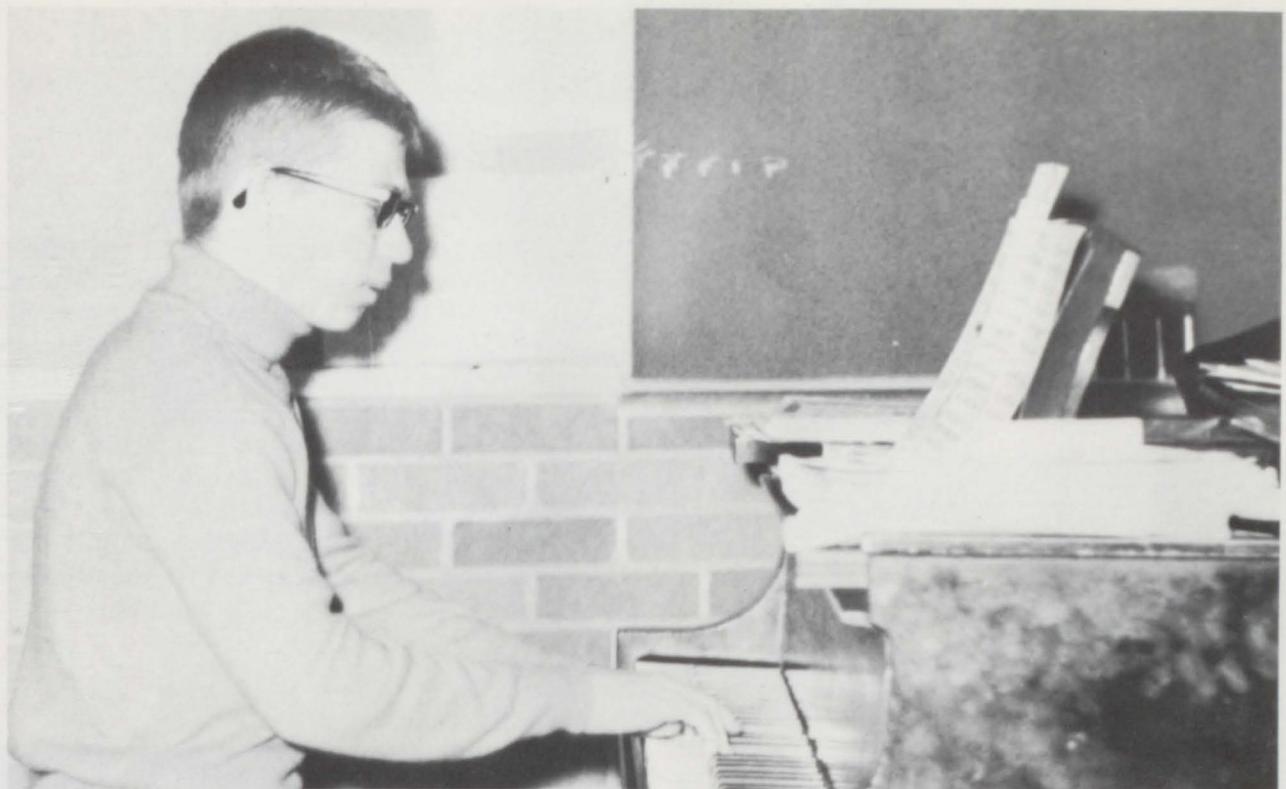

Our new principal and Mr. Moon worked on a new concept in music for Port Huron High, the ensemble. A small group of students that sing for groups such as Lions Club was organized.

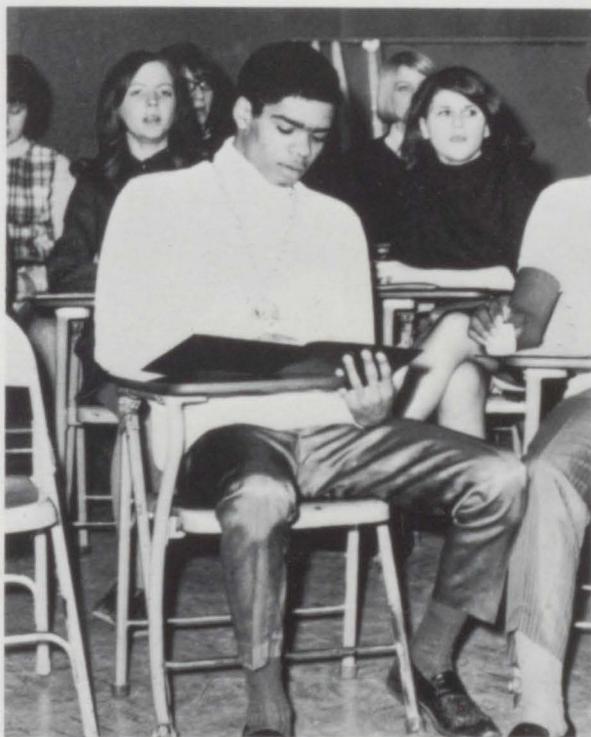

Students in second hour A Capella Choir start off the morning with warm-up exercises.

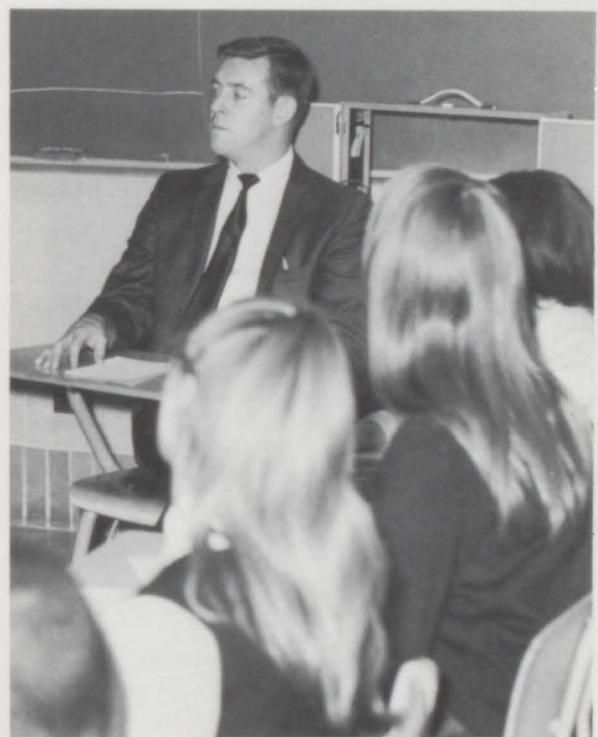

After warm-up is finished, the class divides its voices up into bass, alto, and soprano and gets underway.

Scot Smith stays quietly in the background supporting the voices of the choir with his musical fingers at the piano.

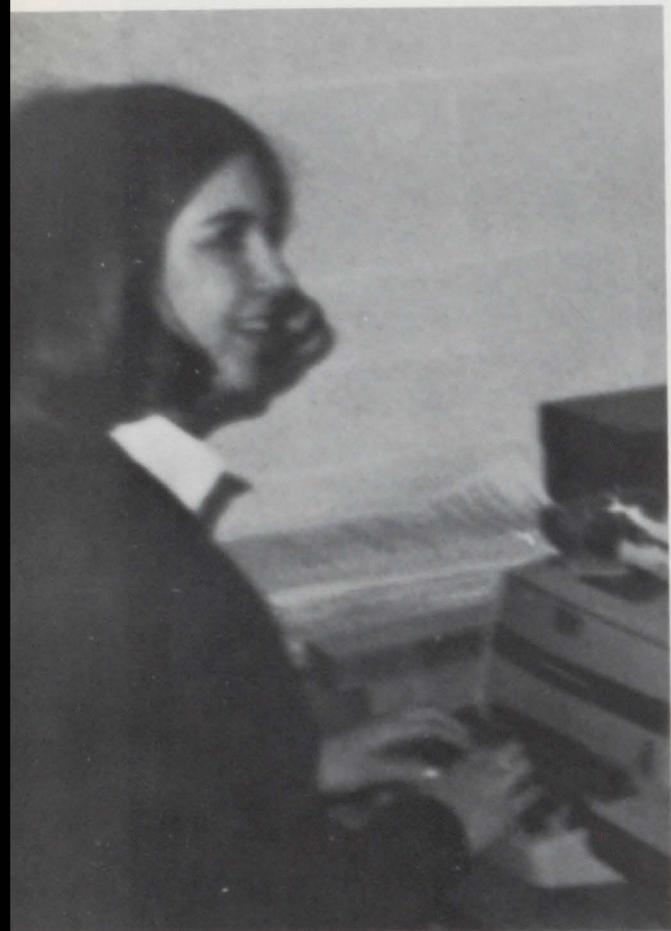

Famous Tarrel Shaw of the Marvin Limer Sports show uses his voice in second hour vocal.

Mr. Moon takes his knowledge to English and composition classes to explain a symphony.

1969 Seniors conquer all time co-op high

"Hurry, I have to be at work in ten minutes." This was the cry of the majority of Seniors on the Co-op program at our school this year. Fifty-six places of business hired one hundred and twenty-six of them. Office work, industrial trade, automotive, nursing, foods, and distributive education were the six fields of work offered. The short blonde addition to our teaching staff, Mr. Goldsworthy, and Mr. Moeller taught the Co-op related courses needed to coordinate work with school.

Marianne Plaut acts as secretary for Co-op co-ordinators, Mr. Moeller and Mr. Goldsworthy.

"A roll anyone?" Dishing out rolls is one of Diana Ireland's jobs at Fletcher's Beef Buffet.

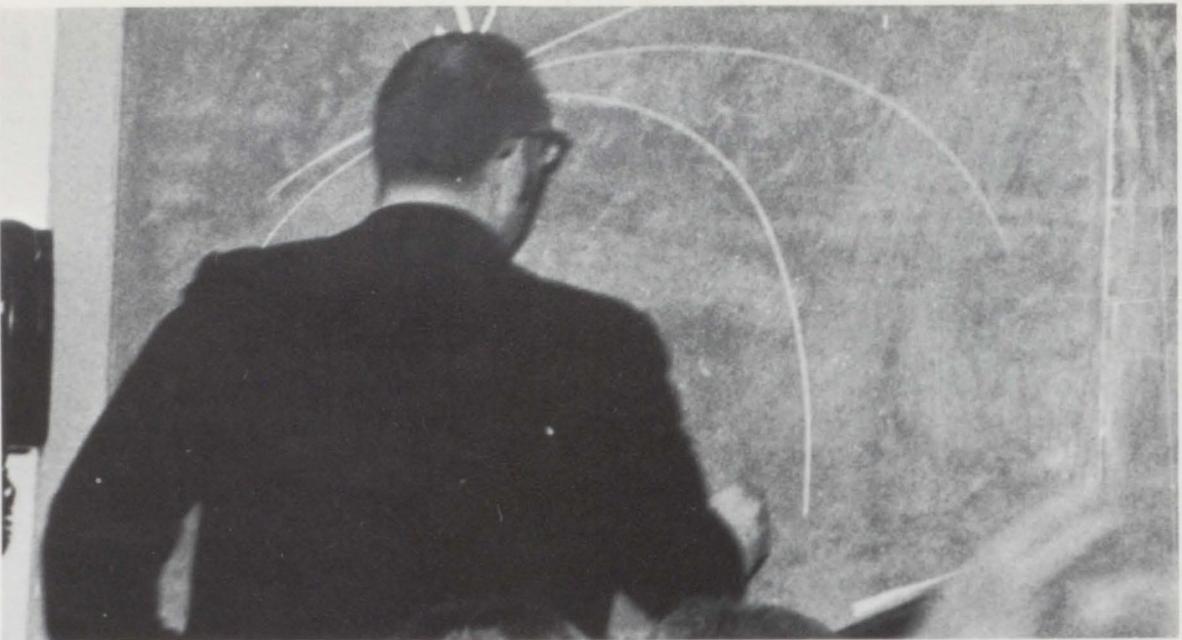

"Fill her up, please." This is exactly what Mike Moore does at Herb and Bill's Gulf Service Station, located on Griswold Road.

Because of our Co-op program, Dave Jacobson leaves school in the afternoon and works at Smith's meat packing company where he packs hams, hams, and more hams.

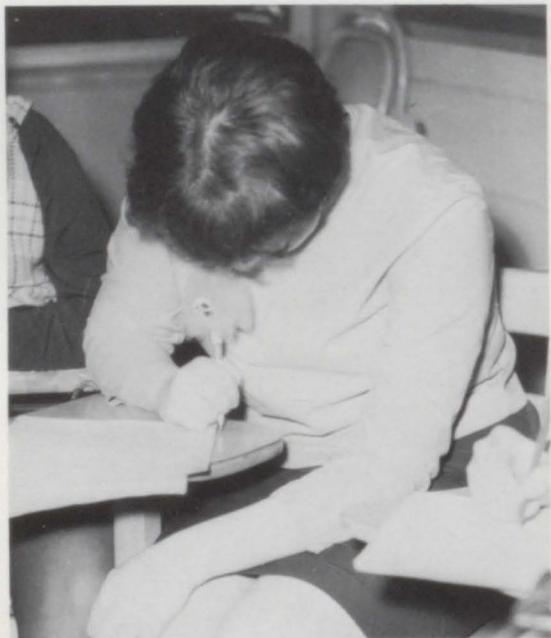

Darlene Schafer busily works in the Co-Op office to make the Co-Op program a successful one.

"Now, class, we are going to discover what happens to the unfortunate drivers' training student that hits a tree at seventy miles an hour."

Drivers' Training makes one for the road

Taking notes and reading the textbook have a lot to do with how fast one gets on the road.

Drivers education was offered to students sixteen years of age and older during their study hall period. The students spent six weeks studying the mechanics of the car as well as the road. But there is nothing like first-hand experience. The students "worked out" on the strip and were taken on road tests to test their ability to drive in business districts, country areas, country expressways, and residential sections. After three weeks in the summer, or a semester in the winter, students were given a final road test, written test, eye test and a driving permit.

Social Studies introduces us to the world

Janice Stanley concentrates wholeheartedly on the Civil War.

Social studies, required three years of all Port Huron High students, involved the history and social and democratic aspects of our country. Civics introduced the Freshmen to basic ideas of a democratic government. Juniors traced the history of the United States. Seniors probed deeper into the social, economic, and governmental problems of our society. Studying the history and geography of the world was also offered.

Miss Eichhorn's world history class engages in a discussion about the effects of history on modern times.

Mr. Pike, student teacher from Michigan State, takes over Mr. Lincoln's annual ride thru history.

Judy Cleland announces an amendment to the campaign platform that is the base of the Free American Party.

Campaign '68

"True Blue Lou" puts his mother and his country first.

For the first time, the Senior Class held a Campaign '68. The Free Americans, made up of more liberal people who were mainly doves, nominated Larry Thornton and Bill Lewis. The more conservative party name Darrel Scarberry and Don Mellendorf their nominations. Each party held a nominating convention to determine their presidential candidates who in turn announced their vice-presidential candidates. Through the excitement and noise of dancing girls, banners, reporters, and speeches, Bill Lewis and Bob Krupp were chosen by the Free Americans to run against Nationalists Don Mellendorf and Bob Limberg. Darrel Scarberry added excitement by creating a third party. After more campaigning, Seniors voted in Bill Lewis and Bob Krupp as our Free American President and Vice-President.

Vice-Presidential candidate, Bob Krupp, makes a valiant effort to answer a question brought up by Tom Morrison during a mock press conference.

visits problems of democracy classes

Nationalists Don Mellendorf and Bob Limberg listen intently to their opponents.

The Nationalist nominating convention is bursting with enthusiasm for the three presidential candidates as each state announces its choice.

English—our key to communication

With pen in hand, and a puzzled look on his face, Richard Bennet tries to think of an idea for a speech.

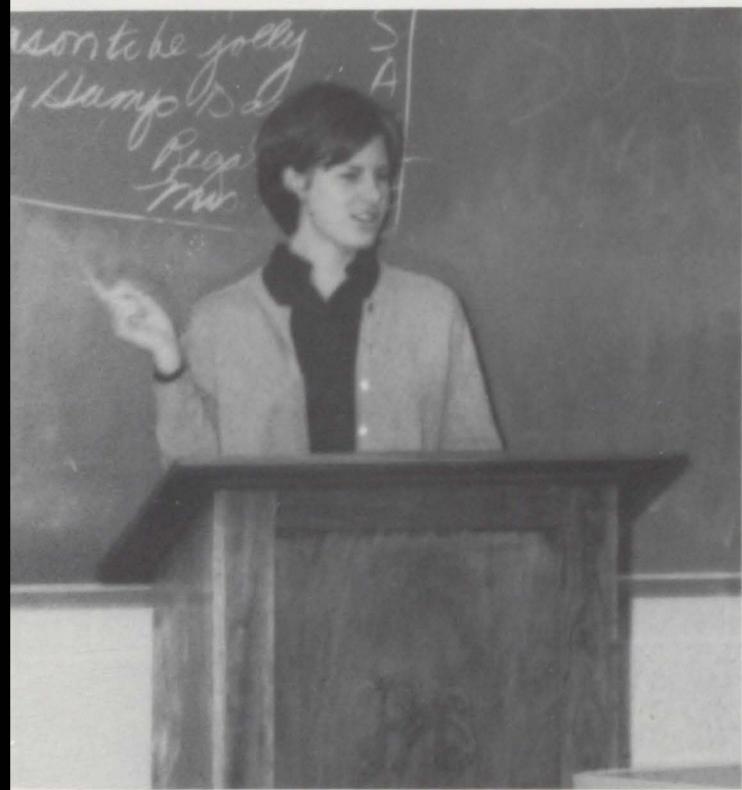

The English Department composes a good part of our school curriculum. Freshmen learn grammar and composition; sophomores learn how to write effectively. Juniors study American authors in their American Literature classes. Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors may elect public speaking. Other courses include English Literature, World Literature, and Drama in Literature.

Dave Hrisca, are you hungry or is this a speech class project? Dave gets first-hand knowledge on a wild cherry.

The harder you work, the more you learn, or is it the harder you learn the more you work?

Wendy Magneson tells her audience how to be an interesting and successful public speaker during her sixth hour speech class.

Pearl Swanson and classmates take notes on Mr. Moon's lecture about Periods of Music.

Barbara Baird and Delilah Carlton measure their ingredients with great care.

Homemaking teaches the joys of wise

Mike Isebester finds out there's more to cooking than enjoying the finished product.

With the high cost of living constantly rising, the homemaking instructors' main objective was economics and how to live as one and a family unit.

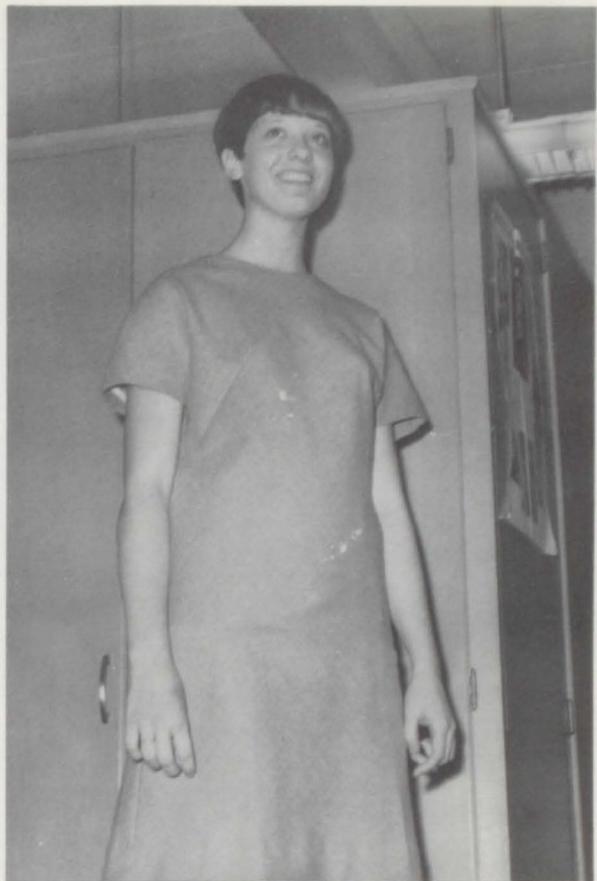

In Foods I and II the students were taught the principles of nutrition and the planning, preparing, and serving of meals. They gave consideration to budgetary and social needs, community resources of present and future interests.

The clothing courses were designed to meet the needs of the students and to help them realize that through personal analysis and application of fundamental principles they can become more attractive.

Home and family living was a one semester course dealing with self-understanding, moral standards, dating, marriage, pregnancy, and parental development. Resource people from the community, films, and film strips were used to develop the course.

Home and Family Living students go over the day's news.

Sharon Hindes shows real poise as a future model.

economics

Sharon Hindes, Henretta Haskins, Sharon Laturno and Sally Meelie work patiently at their individual sewing projects.

Denis Carfore and Stan Jurk work on their individual projects in industrial plastics class.

Industrial Arts expose students to

In mechanical drawing class students learn the technique of drawing detailed plans.

Mr. Johnson observes Nick Williams working the grinder.

Roger Ingles works carefully while braze welding.

unique knowledge

Industrial arts was very unique in its own way. The students received first hand experience. Students learned to operate drill presses, buffers, and a host of other machinery.

Several different fields were offered. The curriculum included crafts, industrial arts, machine wood, and metal shops, mechanical drawing and industrial plastics, a new class this year.

Also new this year was Mr. Manis Johnson, from A & M University in Arkansas. Mr. Johnson took the position of a Metal Shop instructor, a job he was fully qualified to teach.

Dale Stevens lights the torch while Roger Vargo adjusts the pressure to begin work.

Staffs record beginning of new PHHS era

STUDENT editors are Diane Gillett, Linda McIntyre; Business Manager, Sue French; Sponsor, Mr. Clair.

LIGHTHOUSE editors are Janet Nelson, Sue Stark; Business Manager, Sue Schwenk; Sponsor, Mrs. Sanderson.

"Yeah Yearbook! Rah! Rah! Rah!" Dean Currie and Johnny O'Sullivan lead the classes in competition for the Pep Yearbook.

The Yearbook Staff has been at work since 1905 recording the year's events in our annual, the STUDENT. This year, the Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior, Senior, Curriculum, Activities, Faculty, Ads and Index sections began the record of our second century.

LIGHTHOUSE staff members have been recording news-worthy events from our school since 1922. Ad manager, Circulation chairman, Times Herald News chairman, and thirteen reporters make up their staff. Both staffs were chosen in the spring, because of their superior ability in English, to serve on the staff for the following year.

The STUDENT staff is twenty-three members strong this year. Despite those deadlines that creep up so fast, and all the snapshots that have to be snapped, they made it again.

Homecoming, Thanksgiving festivities, Christmas, Big Red Week, and finally, the Senior assembly are some of the events that the newspaper staff covers in its bi-monthly publication, the Lighthouse.

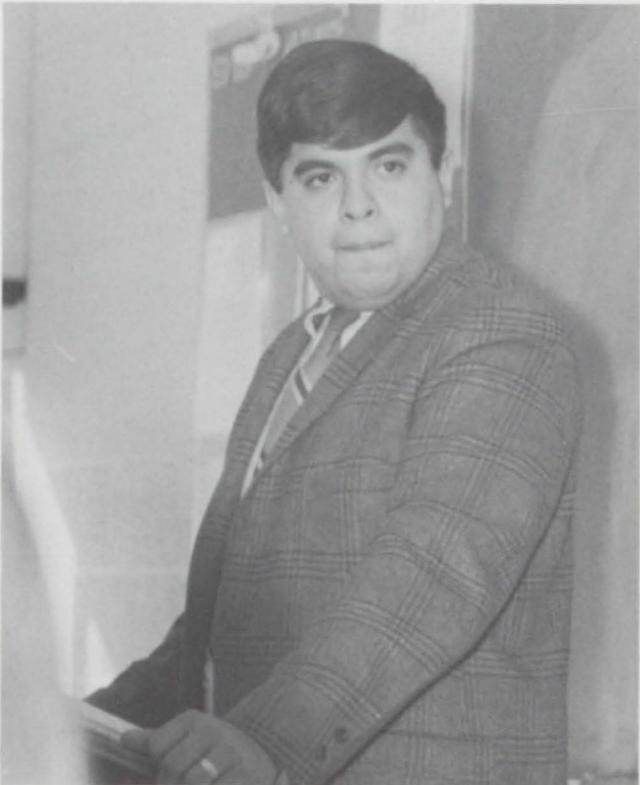

Many German students, Sherry Chran in particular, enjoy reading German magazines.

A kind neighbor helps Steve McLaughlin answer a question in French class.

Languages help unfold

"M-M-M-MUERTE, the important thing to remember is, Pedro got the crown, but shouldn't have, so Enrique killed him . . . "

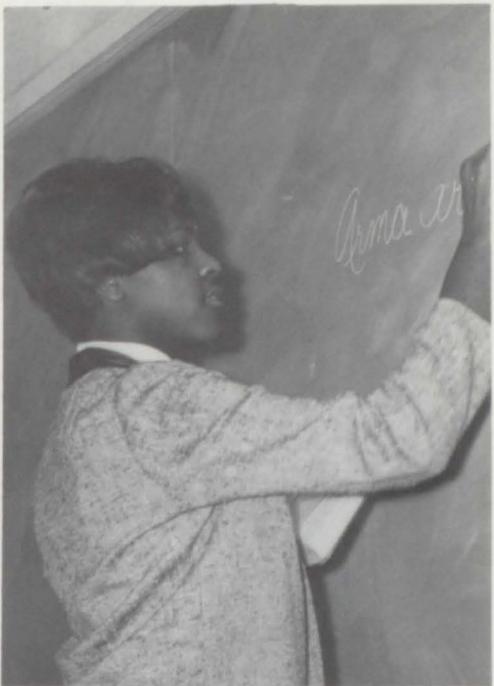

Dave Falk sits in his private compartment and concentrates wholeheartedly on the voice in his ears.

more than just language

"The neatest thing we do is record our voices on tape and play them back". The language lab was also used in Spanish, French, and German classes to learn vocabulary, and even to take tests.

But what do language students learn besides language? Latin poetry was a change of pace for Miss Edwards' classes. Mrs. Dacey took her students to the Detroit Institute to a French artist show. Miss Le-Rud took a bus load to a beer festival at Frankenmuth, and Mr. Briones had a Spanish course where students read about El Cid, The Taming Of The Shrew, and how Spain happened to trick the devil into making them aquaducts. Language and customs go hand in hand.

"Is that right?" asks Maxine Headd, scanning a line of Latin Poetry.

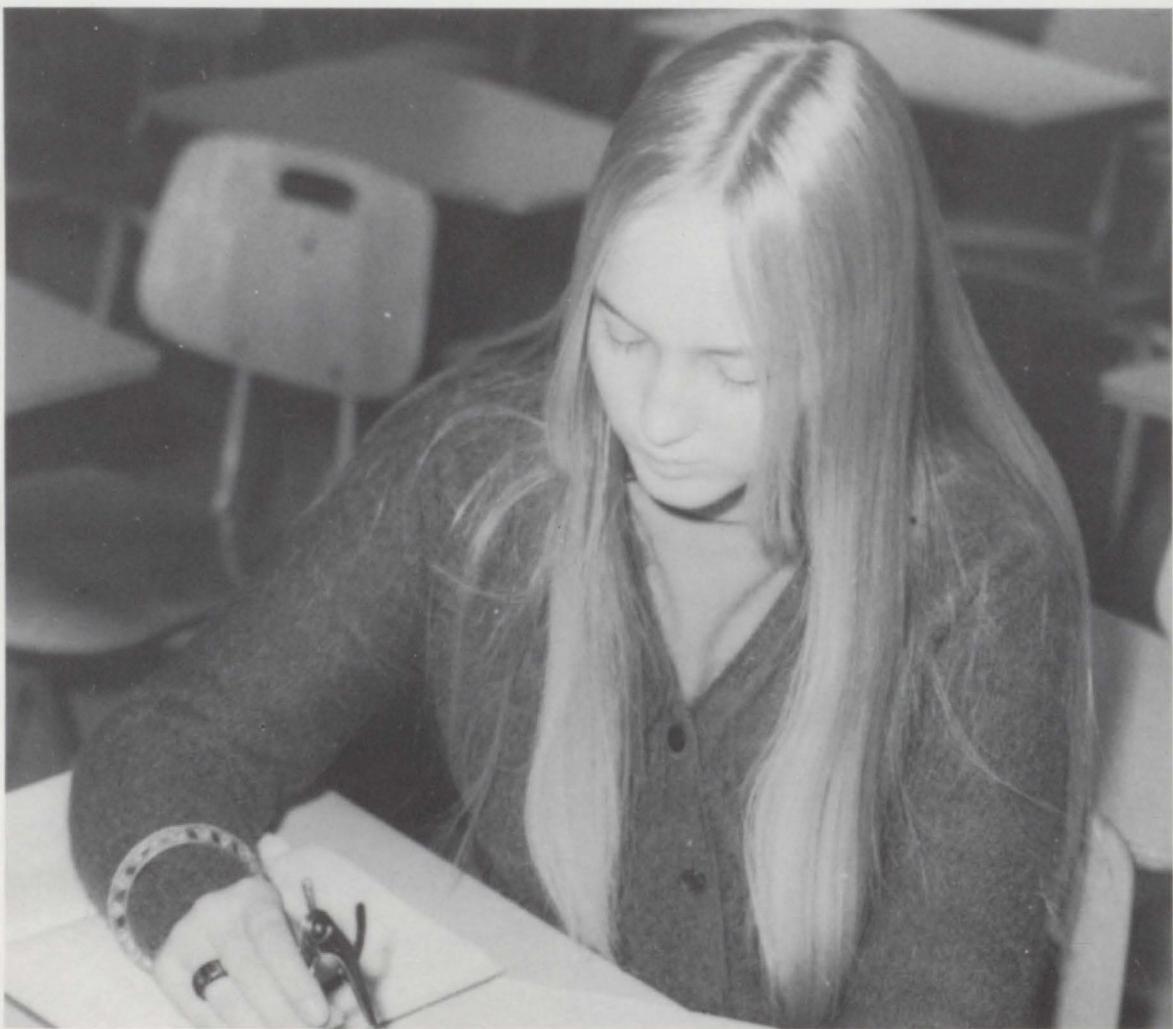

"It's a simple word, you guys!" says Mike Knox as he tries to beat his French Class at a game of Hangman.

New Math revolution hits high school

In addition to receiving two new teachers, Mr. Spomer and Mr. Snyder, the Math Department also received tons of new Modern Math textbooks. The classes to use these books were practical and general math classes and first and second year algebra classes. In Modern Math procedure, structure and thinking were stressed whereas mechanics had been stressed in traditional math.

Despite the changes in the math classes, geometry and advanced math classes remained the same. The students still worked with compasses and trig tables.

"It really makes you feel good to work an hour on a problem and get it right." Vicky Swegles, armed with geometry book and compass, concentrates on one of those problems.

Mr. Case, head of the Math Department, attempts to explain a typical trigonometrical equation.

Frustrated math student, Mary Jo Kongas, hurls her pencil in disgust.

Is Veta McCants caught in the act? She seems to have discovered a fascinating new approach to modern math problems.

Gymnastics builds strong bodies twelve ways

Every Port Huron High School student took a course in physical education. Physical Education is an effort to promote physical fitness and physical hygiene. Students began the hour with a series of exercises, such as push-ups, jumping jacks, and sit-ups.

The curriculum included Swedish exercises to music, basketball, volleyball, and tumbling. During the warmer weather in the spring or fall, the classes were held outside. Baseball was a favorite outdoor sport.

Renee McCalla places first for Port Huron High School in the Eastern Michigan League girls sit-up division.

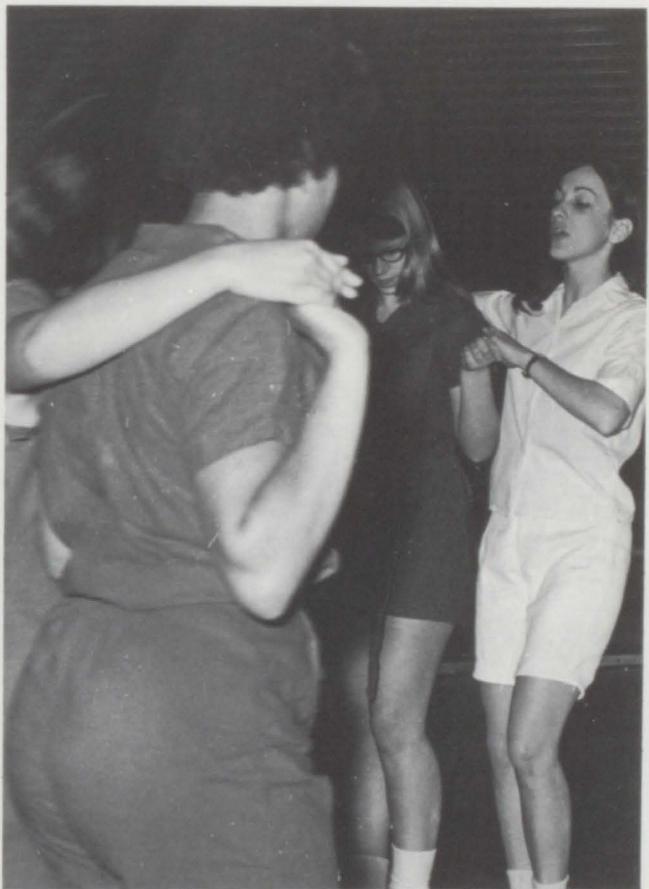

The girls gym classes learn the dances of yesteryear.

Mr. Hudson instructs his class on carrying people on stretchers.

Basketball is just one of the girls' winter sports.

Miss Shier helps her students untangle themselves from Swedish exercises.

Through experimentation science forever

Wow! What a mess Jim Owens, Barb Neslon, and Gerry Bugg smoked up in Miss Raub's sixth hour chemistry class.

advances

Here Steve Studer, Mary Donovan, C. J. Putney and Karen Bain further experimentation by measuring the speed of sound and gas pressure.

"Impossible!" There's no such word in the scientist's language. Probing, searching, and testing results, scientists find the answers they need; fortunately, their work is never done. One answer leads to another.

Although all scientists don't have such an exciting life, their skills are needed in their jobs. For instance, your local pharmacist's job is very important.

The classes here at P.H.H.S. ranged from general science to the more specialized fields of chemistry and physics.

Karen Macbeth, Bonnie Geistenberger, Richard Frizzle and Jim Rostine hold "Chi" as Mr. Ulrich feeds the eight foot, fifteen pound Regal Python.

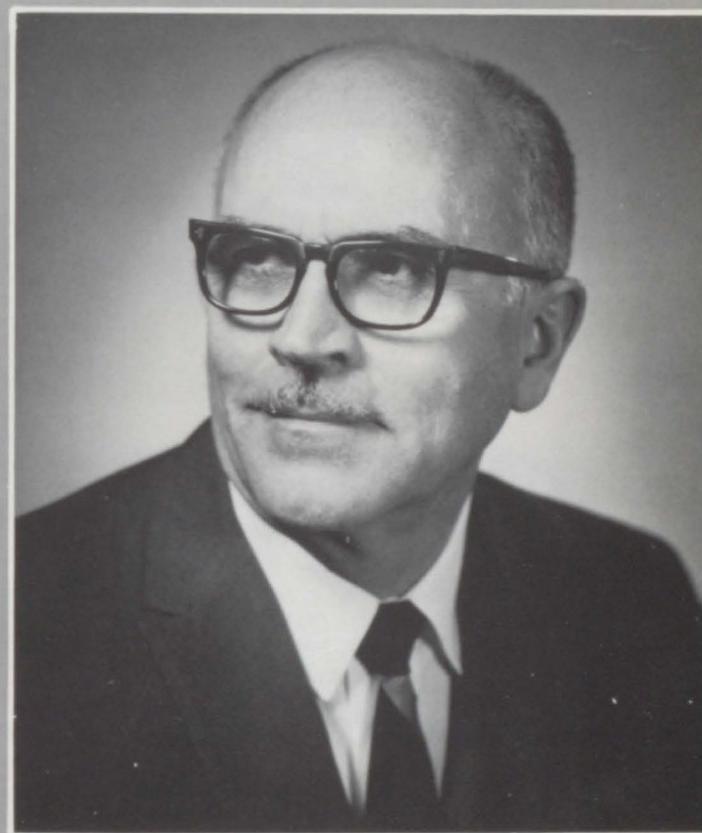

Mr. Chester Wydrzynski, Principal

Mr. Chester Wydrzynski, Miss Patricia Austin, and Mr. Wallace Nault were the principal and assistant principals for the 1968-69 school year.

Mr. Wydrzynski came to P.H.H.S. in September after serving as principal in Detroit. His guidance, along with student cooperation, brought about excellent results in making P.H.H.S. a better place in which to learn.

Miss Austin has been Assistant Principal for the past three years. Through her understanding and patience, many students have learned to accept the responsibilities of high school life and have become useful citizens in our high school society.

Mr. Nault has also served in the past as Assistant Principal at P.H.H.S. He also has helped bring about a pleasing atmosphere in the school. Mr. Nault has devoted much of his time to improving conditions in and around the school. Because of his efforts, many problems have been overcome, therefore making students proud to say they attend P.H.H.S.

Guidance

The happy, smiling face of Mr. Alan Frost, guidance counselor to boys in ninth through twelfth grades, was often seen in the halls of PHHS during the past year. After a comparatively short teaching career, Mr. Frost came to Port Huron High School in the fall of 1967. Mr. Frost attended Port Huron Junior College and Michigan State University where he obtained Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees. His majors and minors were guidance, English, social studies, and science. Flying and sports in general are Mr. Frost's hobbies.

Miss Majorie Muhlitner has been at Port Huron High School for many years as a teacher and as a guidance counselor. She has been the sponsor for Student Council and has taken charge of the Magazine Sale for twenty-five years. At her Alma Mater, the University of Michigan, Miss Muhlitner majored in history, government, and counseling. Besides counseling ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade girls, Miss Muhlitner found time to pursue her hobby of reading.

Mr. Eugene Dunbar spent the past year giving guidance and assistance to ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade girls and boys at Port Huron High School. After working at Central Michigan University, the University of Michigan, and Wayne State University, Mr. Dunbar obtained Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees. He majored in Spanish and psychology and minored in counseling, guidance, and history. In his spare moments during the past year, Mr. Dunbar enjoyed boating.

counselors

Mr. Howard Buckowski spent the past year as a boys' guidance counselor. Mr. Buckowski attended Wisconsin State University, and the University of Wisconsin. After majoring in guidance, counseling, and geography and minoring in social studies, history, English, and science, Mr. Buckowski earned Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees. Mr. Buckowski enjoyed photography, golf, swimming, woodworking, and reading as hobbies throughout the year.

After a teaching career in music for fifteen years, five of which were spent in Germany, Miss Genette Brocken came to Port Huron High School as a guidance counselor. Miss Brocken attended Grove City College in Pennsylvania, Kent State University in Ohio, and Wayne State University. She majored in music education and guidance and earned a Bachelorate in Music and a Masters in Music Education. Her hobbies this year included listening to and collecting records, traveling, and skiing.

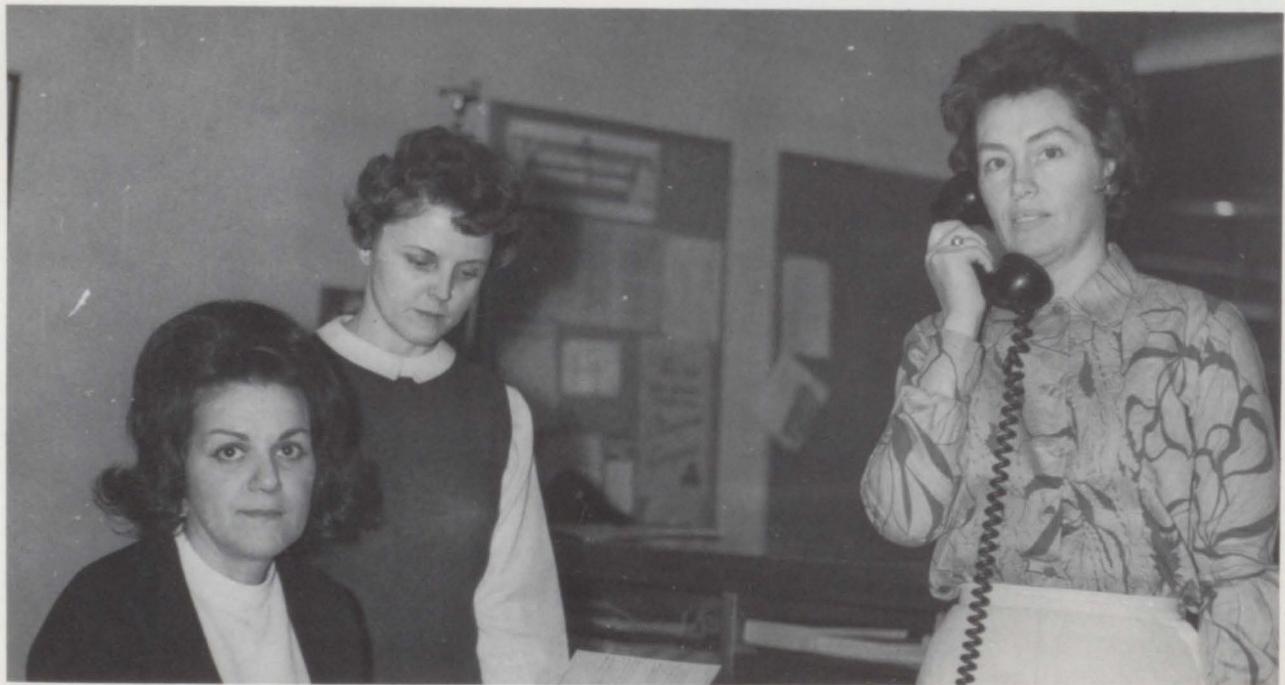

Mr. John Ufford was a 1969 addition to the Port Huron High School counseling staff. Students in grades nine through twelve were counseled by Mr. Ufford. While attending Michigan and Wisconsin State Universities, he majored in psychology and minored in science and social studies. Mr. Ufford earned Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees. Music, hiking, and skiing were among the activities that occupied Mr. Ufford's spare moments.

Marianne Lyszah, Mary Anderson, and Betty Bowman make the library at P.H.H.S. a pleasant place to visit.

The main office at Port Huron High School is run efficiently by Mrs. Christine Efstratis, Mrs. Betty Kipp, and Mrs. Dorothy Vigrass.

Librarians and secretaries perform clerical tasks

Below is Mrs. Emlaw, counselors' secretary.

The secretaries and librarians at Port Huron High School spent the year adeptly performing clerical duties.

Mrs. Efstratis, Mrs. Kipp, and Mrs. Vigrass worked in the main office as secretaries. Their duties ranged from typing tests for teachers to selling tickets for athletic events. Mrs. Kipp was Mr. Wydrzynski's secretary. The counselors' secretary was Mrs. Emlaw.

Collecting fines, filing books, and keeping track of film were just a few of the many duties performed by the librarians in the school library. The librarians who performed the tasks admirably were Mrs. Lyszak, Mrs. Anderson, and Mrs. Bowman.

Without these efficient women our school would have been at a loss.

P.H.H.S. boasts excellent staff

Above are the hard-working women who spend hours every day preparing delicious meals for hundreds of hungry students. From left to right are Mary Colling-wood, Rose Eifect, Marjorie Jameison, Dorothy Weston, Leona Miller, Viola McWilliams, Emilee Nurenburg, and Betrice Curtis.

Port Huron High School can proudly claim one of the finest noncertified staffs available. Too often, students seem to overlook the work which these people do; however, the staff's work is not in vain.

The kitchen staff prepares mouth-watering meals for what must seem to be an endless number of students. Besides serving the plate lunches, the cooks serve hot dogs, cookies, cakes, and their very popular donuts. Because of these hard working women, many students' growling stomachs have been quieted.

The custodians have kept the school in wonderful condition. Many times the shining floors and immaculate appearance of the school and its grounds have impressed visitors. These people, who have kept Port Huron High School and its grounds clean and neat, have done a superb job.

Because of the cooks and custodians who have put forth such a fine effort, Port Huron High School is a better place in which to learn.

"CLEAN! CLEAN! CLEAN!" is Louis Kennedy's slogan.

ORGANIZATIONS

The warmth of togetherness,

The thought of finding with a group something that could not be found alone,

The hours of planning, creating, and enjoying,

The pride in one's self as an individual and as a club member,—

These are the dreams of belonging ...

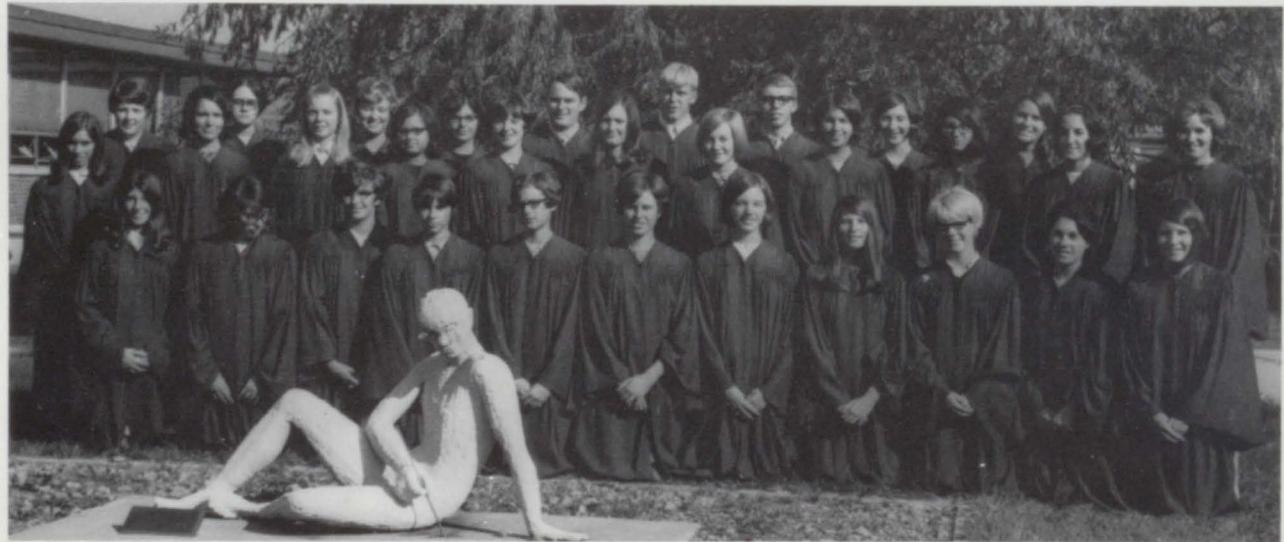

The National Honor Society officers, P. K. Mechan, President; Stu Howe, Vice-President; Kathy Cook, Secretary; and David Roodhouse, Treasurer, explain the four stations, Character, Service, Leadership, and Scholarship, at which they stand during the annual Honors Assembly.

Miss Raub, club sponsor, carefully guides activities throughout the year.

esteem PHHS students

Many of the scholarly and skittish students soared into the National Honor Society or Mu Alpha Theta to inspire classical delight.

Throughout the year Honor Society members propelled character, service, leadership, and scholarship. In the promotion of education, they sponsored an Honor Roll Contest for the student body and also issued a scholarship to St. Clair County Community College. In the spring the traditional ceremony was held to beckon the responsible and outstanding students.

The accomplished aim of Math Club was the promotion of mathematics. The club offered slide rule classes during the fall to interest students. New this year, a less serious motive overcame the members; on the lighter side the club astonished their captive listeners when they went Pumpkin Caroling. In the spring new members were invited to carry on PHHS mathematical interests.

You say Mu Alpha Theta just solves math problems?

people hit the heights in athletics

GAA, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Biddle and the leadership of Mildred Jones, President, Connie Conlan, Senior Vice-President, Penny Beach, Junior Vice-President, Debbie Smith, Corresponding Secretary, and Gayle Seeley, Recording Secretary, filled the gym each Monday and Thursday with the sounds of laughter, bouncing basketballs, and music to accompany Swedish exercises. Throughout the year they held special nights in honor of Freshmen, Moms, Dads, Teachers, and Coeds. A Christmas party, Awards Night, Candy Sales, charity drives for the March of Dimes, and Easter Seals, selling football programs, and participating in EML sports-days climaxed a year of fun and activities.

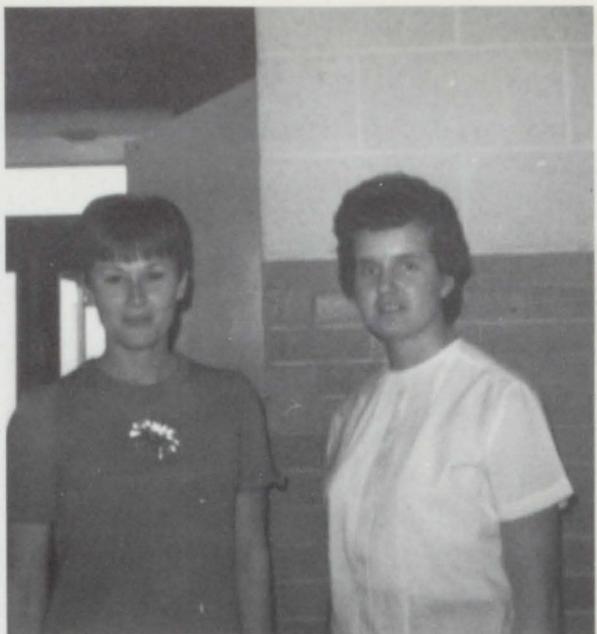

The honored sportsmen who were elected to membership of Varsity Club, under the watchful eyes of Mr. Dickinson and Mr. Worden, contributed much of their time to helping others.

Ralph Lill runs hard for the Cross Country team to earn his Varsity letter.

Sharon Rosswurm, a future teacher, helps in the school library, while other F.T.A. members aid PHHS teachers in correcting papers or going to Roosevelt School to assist in teaching.

equal opportunity

Preparing for their futures was the main objective of the members of Future Teachers and Future Nurses of Port Huron High School.

Future Teachers met twice a month to discuss plans for their many activities. Some of these were a trip through the St. Clair County Community College, sending a representative to the Michigan Future Teachers Association Conference, and their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children. Their main activity this year was setting up a Cadet Teaching Program. This enabled Seniors to assist and teach classes on a co-op program without pay.

Future Nurses also assembled twice each month to plan a trip to a major hospital and a working schedule at Port Huron Hospital. There the candy stripers received experience in caring for patients and became acquainted with the hospital routine.

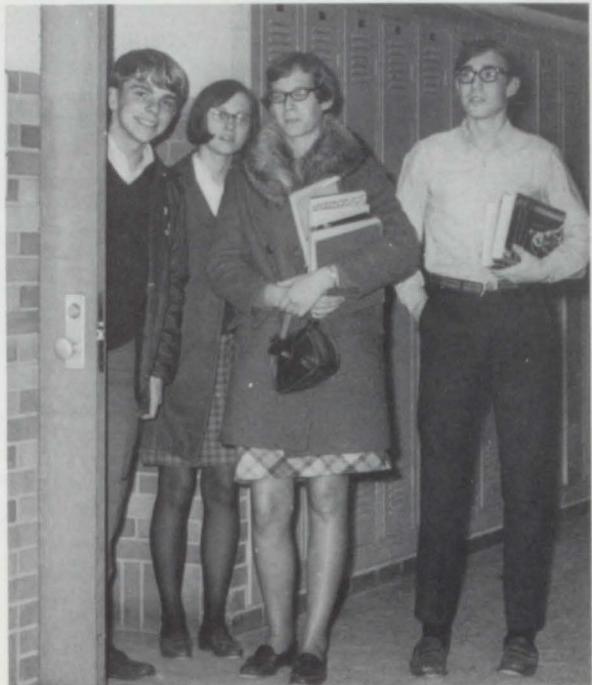

Dawn Bubel, a candy stiper for the Future Nurses, enjoys helping those who are ill in Port Huron General Hospital. Other members are given a night in which they also work.

An active member, Dave Roodhouse, expresses his views on the draft.

Afro-American,

Bob Krupp, Connie Heyer, Kay Pochodylo, and Matt Blood leave for a debate.

The Debate Club members, under the direction of Mr. Lutz, spend much time and thought preparing their position for a debate. Here the members are gathering information on the draft.

Debate Clubs seek a better America

"Be it resolved that the United States should establish a system of compulsory service for all citizens." This was the resolution which the members of Debate Club fought for and against at meets throughout the Blue Water Area. The club also participated in the Blue Water Debate and Forensic Leagues.

To seek a better understanding of Negro history and literature was the main objective of the Afro-American Club. The members spent their Wednesday evenings at the local YMCA discussing the past and present conditions of the Negro in America. The club also held dances in which the proceeds were used to finance trips and materials.

Mr. Swegles stops to chat with two friendly oxen during their trip through Ottawa, Ontario.

move for work, fun, success

"Order in the court!" This exclamation was heard throughout the school every Wednesday when John O'Sullivan had to quiet the energetic members of Parliamentary Law Club. When he finally brought the group to order, they planned for their many events.

At the start of the year they designed their Homecoming float. This first place organizational float, "Total--Victory", was a gigantic white cash register. Then they planned many money-making projects which gave their activities flare. During the year they held bake sales with delicious goodies downtown and during lunch hours. At Christmas they sold corsages and sold hot chocolate between first semester exams and ice cream cones between second semester exams. In the spring they held a car wash every Saturday. All of this hard earned money went toward their New York trip.

Law Club represents Rumania at their annual Model United Nations Assembly.

Kings, queens; clicks, flashes; formulas,

After diligent practice like this, these members went on to conquer the Northern Chess Club in a meet at Northern.

Terry McPharlin captures the other members of Photography Club, Patti Fuller, Nancy Johnston, Patty Dunlap, and Debbie Rapley, on film.

chemicals = Chess, Photo, Science Clubs

Chess Club is interested in the promotion of chess as a national pastime. Twice each week these enterprising young men and women gathered to challenge each other's mental faculties. Then they summoned all their courage and faced Northern for a match.

Photo Club, dedicated to the proposition that anyone can take good pictures, met weekly to propagate the skills of photography. Some of the expressions frequently heard this year were: "Snap to it!", "Be there in a flash!", and "Smile, you're on PHHS camera!"

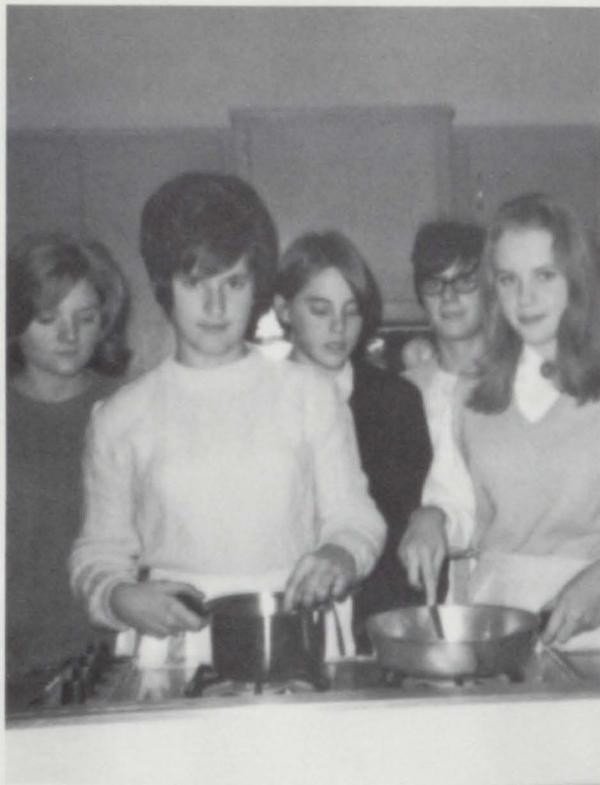

"Bubble, gurgle, foam, phizzzz!" such were the sounds that echoed each week as the searching members of Science Club met to discover and determine the highlights of science.

Mr. Masterson and Mr. O'Brien, Sponsors of Photography and Chess Clubs, struggle to hold up Mr. Phillips, Science Club Sponsor.

Katy Kenny, Patti Fuller, Rod Thompson, Bob Rands, and Bill Mitchell experiment with a few chemicals.

The practical members gain experience in family life by stirring up delicious dishes for dinner.

The seamstresses of Home-Ec Club are laying out a pattern which will result in a beautiful outfit.

Home-Ec Club promotes new skills, interests

"R-r-r-r-r!" and "It's scorched!" were familiar sounds of the Home Economics Club when they got together every Wednesday to increase their skills.

Each member encountered her choice of projects, whether it was sewing or cooking. As the year progressed, the club held a Christmas Project Party, participated in the annual Port Huron High School fashion show, and had a picnic in June to climax a year of fun, experience, and learning.

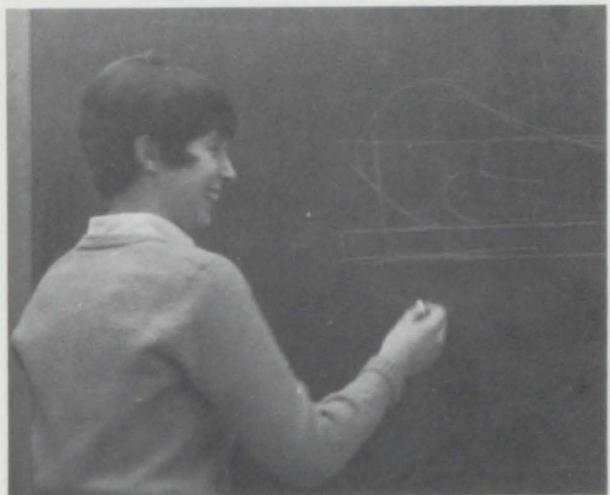

Mrs. McDowell, sponsor, aids the officers, Carol Stubbs, President; Debbie Budinger, Secretary; Joann Stubbs, Treasurer; and Ethel Isbister, Vice-President on the proper seam finishes.

Art Club trips out to artful creativity

"Rub-a-dub-dub! Scrub, scrub, scrub!" chanted the industrious members of Art Club as they donated their time to remove the green paint from Port Huron High School's favorite statue, the Jolly Green Giant.

Concentrating their interests on the betterment of their artistic talents, these students met each Thursday to discuss their pride and joy--art! To further their knowledge they viewed films, practiced painting, and made Christmas card prints.

To broaden their understanding and recognition of world art, the club visited a French exhibit at the Detroit Institute of Art. They also viewed an African exhibit at Oakland University. Several trips were also made to local museums in Sarnia and Port Huron.

Judy McClain, club President, designs their prize-winning homecoming float, "Sock It To 'Em."

Mrs. McPharlin, club sponsor, supervises the Art Club members as they vigorously work to put the old shine back into the "Green Giant."

Terry Welch, a member of Port Huron High School Ski Club, stops for a breather, after a work-out on the slopes.

Reconditioning comes first! These members know that they must get their bodies prepared for the strenuous art of skiing.

Members of Ski

"Oops, these aren't walking sticks!" exclaims, Bob Kaercher, one of the active members of Ski Club.

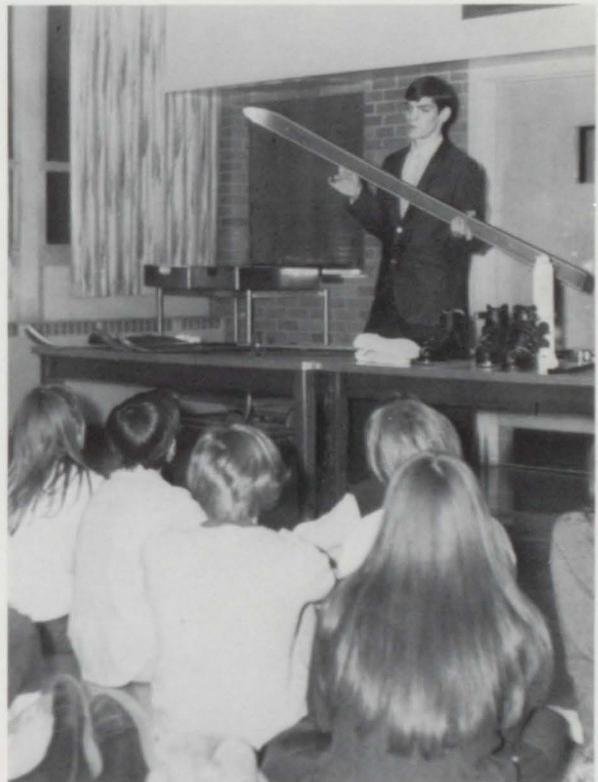

Terry Welch soars down the slopes at Black Forest Ski Lodge.

Club fly united

"Whee-e-e-e! This is neat!" was one of the comments heard floating through the crisp night air when the Big Reds Ski Club met for a "cool" time on the Black Forest slopes.

Led by their daring leaders, Sue Cleveland, Laura Pettengill, Cathy Kash, and Randy Wefel, the members tested their abilities when they traveled to three other lodges.

Besides reconditioning at the YMCA, the members of Ski Club listen intently as the ski equipment is explained.

Pep Club prefers peppy people

Spirited Pep Club officers, Bob Krupp, President; Bill Lewis, Vice-President; Jim Rinker, Treasurer; Barb Nelson, Junior Vice-President; and Sue Niebauer, Secretary; put all their effort into creating school spirit.

Miss Hoskins and Mr. Goldsworthy, Pep Club sponsors, display their "spirit."

"Big Reds are great! Big Reds are really great!" blared from the cafeteria Thursday evenings while Pep Club met to pull together their scheme for boosting the team's victory spirits.

Throughout the year shrieks of encouragement burst from Pep Club. Pre-game pep assemblies, featuring the rivalry for the Pep Jug, threw members into red heat. In the spring when athletics slackened, Pep Club maintained spirit with Big Red Week which was filled with the flurry of the Pow-Wow and the Peppy Pantalooney Carnival.

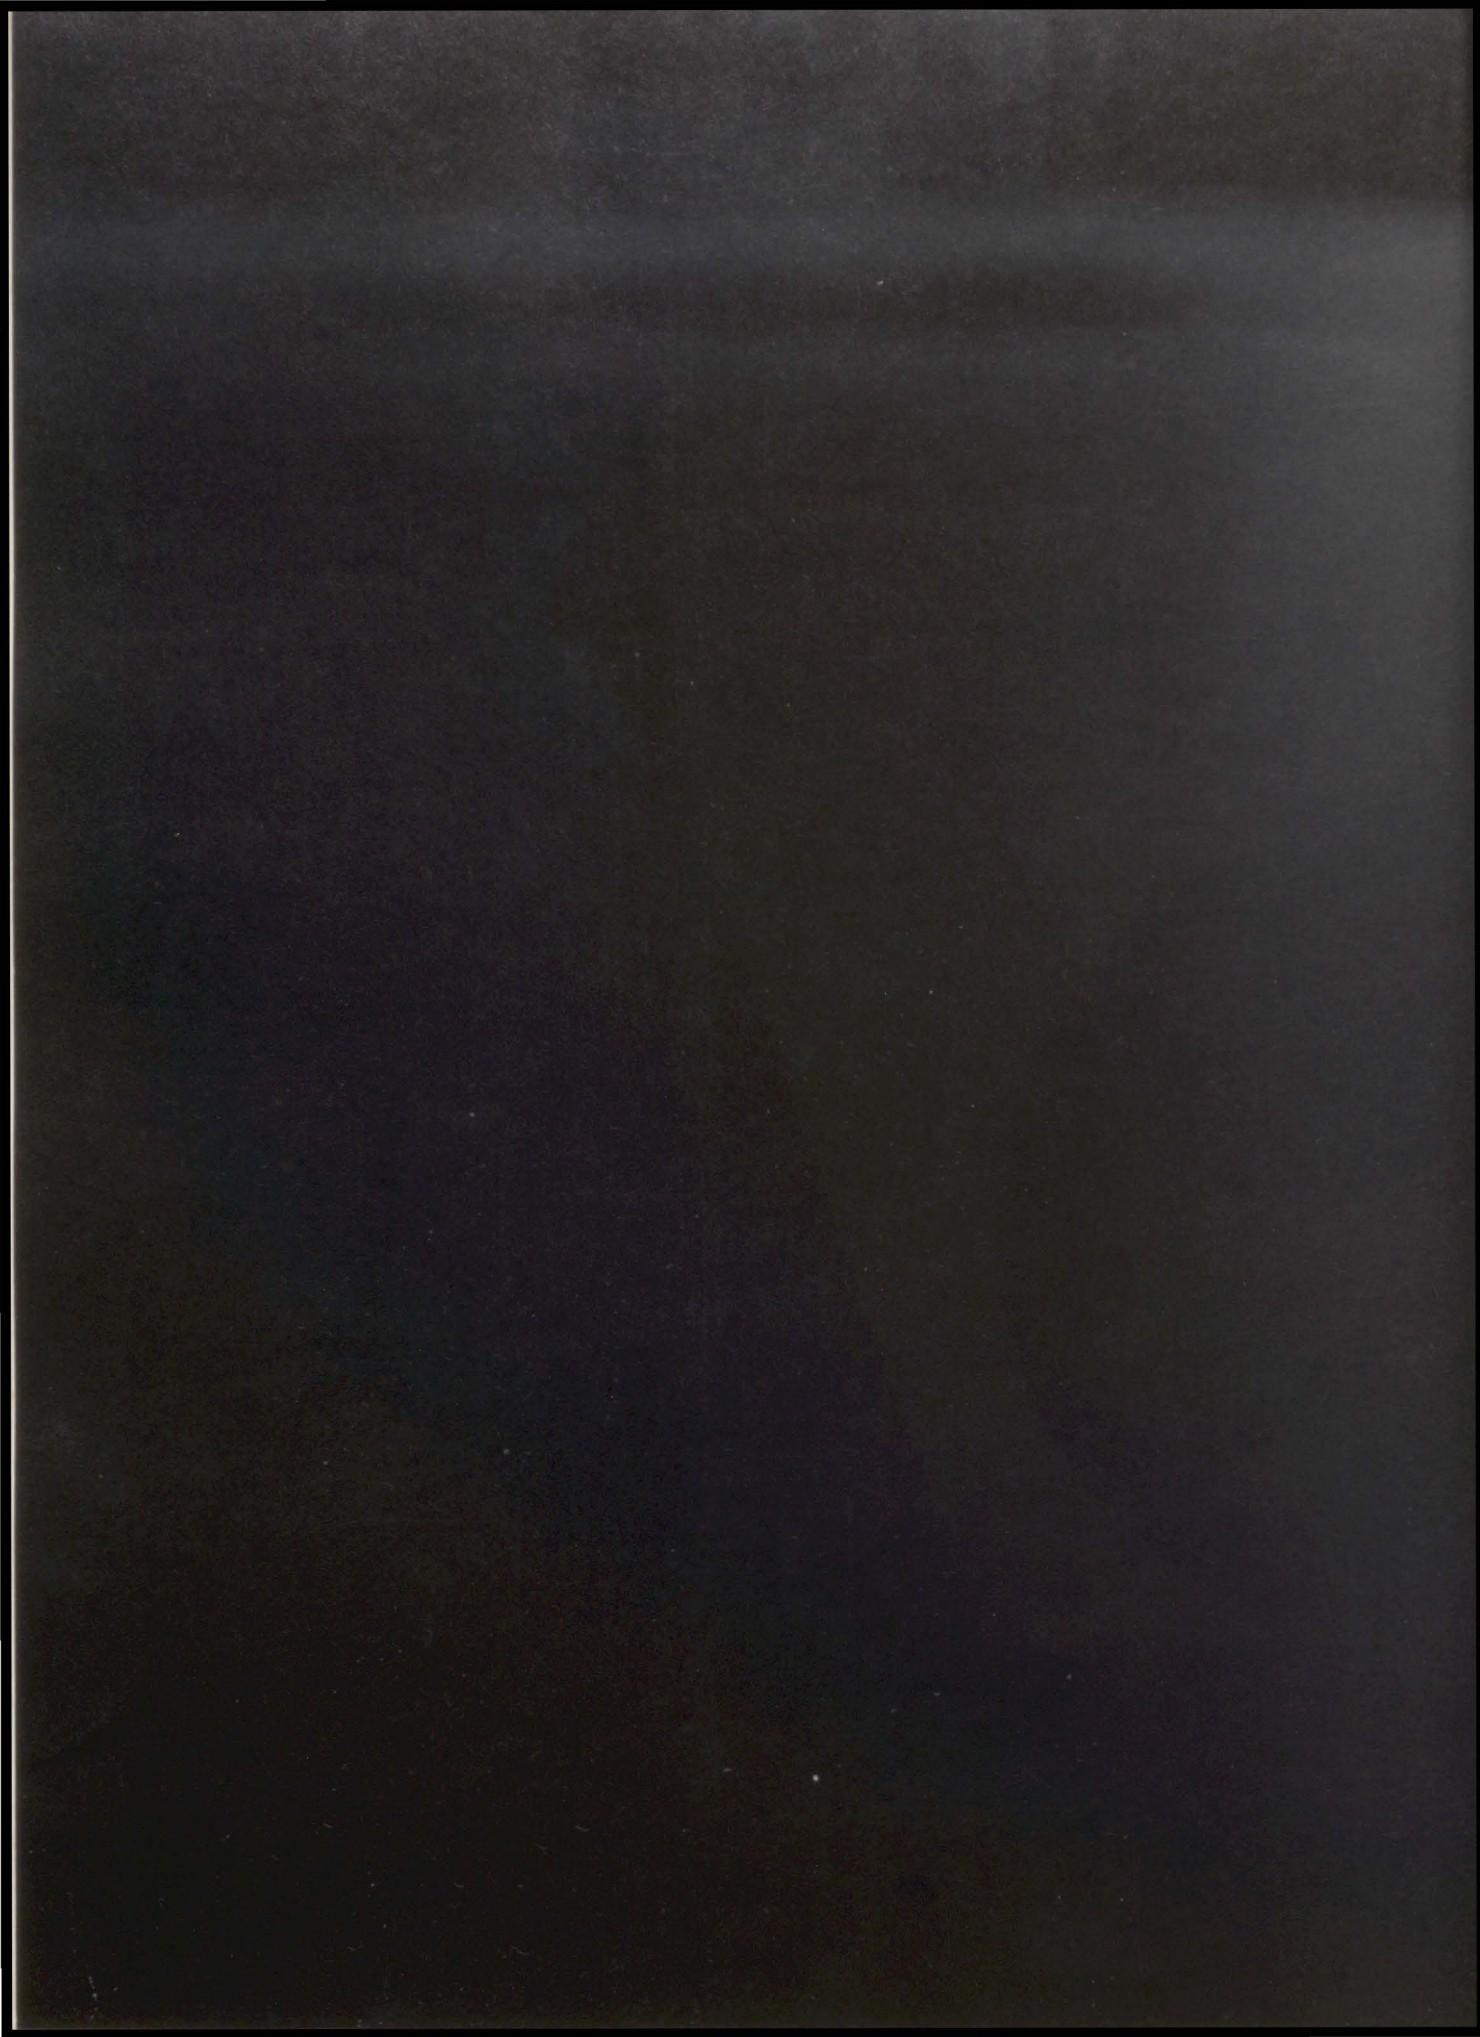

The Pep Club played an important part in making the Big Red Spirit live in 1969!

"How?! With plenty of school spirit," says Stu Howe, Big Red Chief.

"Oh, P. H. High is just too much, too much!"

ATHLETICS

The pounding of clashing gridmen,

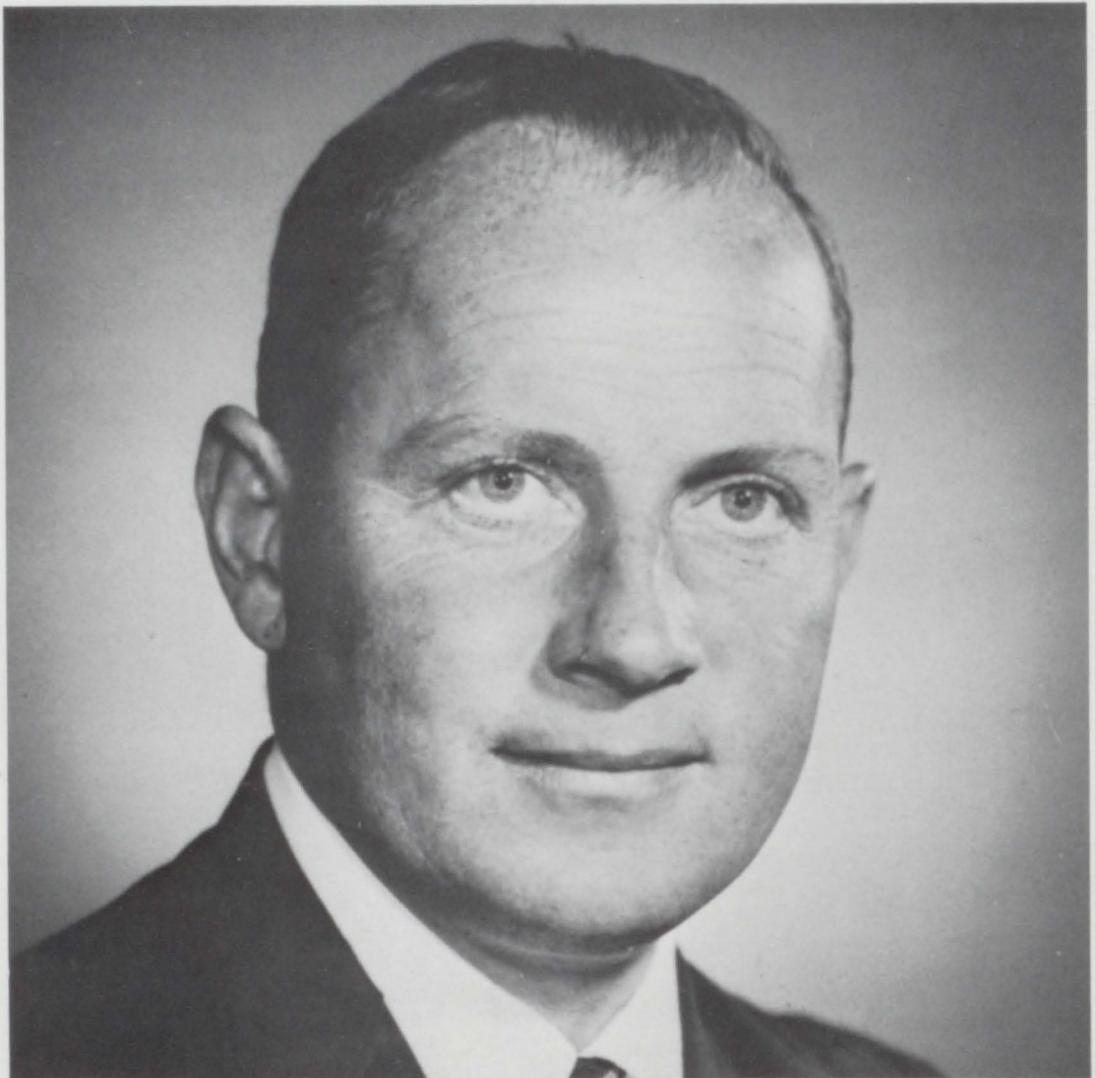

The impact of bat against ball,

The exultant cheers of victory,

The silent sorrowings of loss,—

These are the dreams of physical competition and betterment . . .

PHHS, Varsity Football players

Harold (Hal) Willard, Athletic Director for the Port Huron Area Schools, died unexpectedly October 21 at the age of thirty-six. He had been with the school system since 1964, when he was Assistant Football Coach here at PHHS. In 1966 he became Head Football Coach and led PHHS to its first victory against Northern. He became Athletic Director in July of 1967.

Port Huron area teachers and students started a Hal Willard

Children's Scholarship Fund. This fund will be held in trust until Mr. Willard's children are old enough to use it.

The students of PHHS, as well as the faculty, adopted a resolution in Mr. Willard's memory, honoring him for giving "totally of his energies and human concerns to help develop a complete and well-rounded program in athletics, health, and physical education."

The Freshman football team fought hard and played good games their first season, despite their record of two wins, one tie, and five losses. The future years that lay ahead for the class of '72 will form a successful Senior year that will prove a proud season for Port Huron High. This '68 season has shown the Freshman team how important it is to keep honor and victory in P.H.H.S., and that they must be twice as tough next year as they were this year to keep ahead of their opponents. Determination, sportsmanship, and an open-minded attitude all contribute greatly to form a successful and victorious football team. If the team follows these important factors which make up a "Big Red", as Seniors they will emerge as the true "Big Reds". And that's something to be proud of.

The Freshmen Basketball games showed a victorious future for the upcoming players on Varsity and Junior Varsity. A 56 to 23 win over Sarnia Central proved that hard work, determination and Big Red spirit can win over any team. Though not very many games were victorious, the Freshmen team played well together. They showed group spirit, and plenty of potential Big Red power. The future success rests with the quality of the underclassmen; and, in the years to come, the Freshmen Team will replace the outgoing Varsity players with even more determination.

Big Red wrestlers again demonstrated their power in the Eastern Michigan League by gaining a first place finish, tied with Port Huron Northern. The grapplers spent many long and painful hours building up the mighty muscles which brought pride to PHHS. Members of both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams not only learned and practiced various holds in wrestling but also mastered the quality of sportsmanship. The wrestling team won long overdue applause from the entire student body at a pep assembly; and the coach, Mr. Hudson, assured the school that his team would win. And they did, and they did, and they did!

The Track Team had a very successful season this year, ending it with six wins and only two losses. Mark Maxwell proved to be an outstanding track member, combining sportsmanship and effort, along with Tim Pinnex, Richard Graves, and Tom Kreutziger. The team placed second in the E.M.L. and fourth in the Regionals. The Port Huron High Big Reds had a Track team to be exceptionally proud of, and the support offered by the student body gave the team the incentive to try its best and to make its school proud of its efforts.

PH batters swing for victory

Determination marked the success of the Big Red baseball team as each player joined in the fight for victory. The team won nine games and only lost six; compared to last year's record of three wins and twelve losses, the Big Reds improved immensely over the previous year. There were many exciting moments during the baseball season as the Big Reds fought for victory.

Terry Stroh, second baseman for the Big Reds, relays the ball to first for a double play against Utica Stevenson.

The spirit which cheered our teams on to victory was created by seven energetic girls, the varsity cheerleaders. By leading the student body in cheers, the squad helped to support all Big Red teams.

Again this past summer, the girls attended a cheerleaders' camp. At the camp, the girls learned many new chants, cheers, and skits.

Varsity cheerleaders led the students in cheers for the varsity football and basketball teams. For each sport, the squad chose one girl to organize the group. For football season, Diane Cudlip was chosen as captain, and for basketball season, Penny Beach was chosen. Both girls did an excellent job in planning pep assemblies and creating new cheers.

During basketball season, the squad received new uniforms--red culottes and red vests. The snappy outfits not only made the cheerleaders look sharp as they cheered but also helped them feel sharp.

The cheerleaders' sponsor, Mrs. Biddle, worked long hours with the squad in perfecting new cheers and chants. The seven members on the squad were Janet Baldwin, Penny Beach, Diane Cudlip, Linda Emerick, Sue Niebauer, Lee Sassanella, and Janice Stanley. The Big Red Chief, elected by the student body, was Stu Howe.

Varsity and JV cheerleaders

Rhea McCalla. THIRD ROW: Gwen Davis, Kathy Heyer, Margaret Scriver.

yell for victory

The junior varsity cheerleaders added vigor to the 1968-1969 basketball season. By cheering at all the Junior Varsity games, the seven energetic girls showed the JV players that the students supported them. During the varsity games, the JV cheerleaders sat in the bleachers and cheered with the varsity squad. In addition, the junior varsity cheerleaders led the students as they sang the school song. Sponsored by Mrs. Biddle, the junior varsity squad consisted of three Juniors, three Sophomores, and one freshman.

Besides both cheering squads, there were other factors that increased school spirit. There was the Pep Band that added music to the excitement of all home games. There was the Pep Club that made signs and got the students interested in the games. And there were the students who supported the Big Reds through victory and defeat. All of these things made up Big Red spirit at Port Huron High School.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Freshmen start long climb to top

As five hundred and fifty Freshmen advanced upward, they paused to look back at the moments of their first year at high school. They thought of the frustration of their first days. Then they went on and remembered the fulfillment of their activities during the year.

They thought of the strong leadership that was provided by their four class officers: John Ammerman, President; Sandy Gilbert, Vice President; Brenda Plaut, Secretary; John Gholz, Treasurer.

They reflected upon the hard work and long hours put into their class float, "Bury the Bathers," which brought them third place. They remembered their first physical conflict with the other classes in the Tug of War and remembered the mud-spattered but valiant loss.

At the close of the year they looked forward to becoming Sophomores, for they had completed their initial high school projects and successfully finished their first year.

Sophomores swing

Members of the Sophomore steering committee are typical silly, silly Sophomores. They do all kinds of crazy things like climbing the flag pole!

"4-3-2-1 we're the class of '71" echoed through the halls of PHHS as the Sophomore class gained victory after victory. In the beginning of the year their homecoming float, "Stamp 'Em Out, Send 'Em Home" captured fourth place in a tight race. The Pep Jug was won by this enthusiastic class for the Port Huron vs. Port Huron Northern football game. They bought 175 yearbooks and won the contest between the classes to see which class could buy the most yearbooks. In the Tug of War the silly Sophomores defeated the mighty Seniors to reign as the strongmen of PHHS.

Their Sophomore year will truly be remembered as the greatest by the energetic members of the Class of '71.

The Jolly Juniors, with all their pep and enthusiasm, had a very successful year. To start the year off, they took second place with their Homecoming float, "Put em Out". Homecoming ended, but the work of the Juniors didn't. After they sponsored their dance, they started working on their Junior Prom. After all the hard work, the Juniors were rewarded with an enchanting evening which they will never forget.

The Class of '70 showed their spirit at games, dances, various school activities, and by winning the first pep jug.

SENIORS

The final year of P.H.H.S. teachers, classes and homework,

The warmth of fun and friendship and future memories,

The silent halls momentarily filled with laughter,

The red and white gowns, a high school diploma,—

These are the dreams of all seniors, the freedom finders . . .

'69—Active!

As Freshmen, the members of the great class of '69 entered P.H.H.S. with anxiety and anticipation. In their first thrilling experience in constructing a Homecoming float, the class took fourth place with their "Sink the Bathers". Leaders chosen for the Freshman year were Hank Gholz, President; Linda McIntyre, Vice-President; Judy Cleland, Secretary; and Susie Cleland, Treasurer. Together with their officers the Freshman class presented a twirl dance as their first money-raising project, which was a tremendous success.

Entering as Sophomores with more confidence, the class of '69 took third place with their Homecoming float, "Walk All Over 'Em". Led by Don Portis, President; Ken Willard, Vice-President; Janine Corry, Secretary; and Lee Sasanella, Treasurer, the Sophs took part in P.H.H.S.'s first Big Red Week. A highlight of their Sophomore year was the winning of the Pep Jug for the PH-PHN game as they showed energetic and lasting school spirit.

69's Junior year was a memorable one, filled with endless activities and victories. Leaders chosen for the year were Bob Krupp, President; Sue Niebauer, Vice-President; Marianne Plaut, Secretary; and Greg Bell, Treasurer. As the Homecoming season approached, many long and hard hours of work were combined to construct the first place Junior float, "Victory Flows For 100 Years". On November 17th, the Juniors presented their successful dance, "Autumn Ambush". Soon after, the important plans began for the J-Hop which was held on May 10, 1968, and titled "Song of the Orient". Various committees were formed and many weeks of planning and work started. As a result, "Song of the Orient" was an unforgettable event for those who attended. Spirit was demonstrated as the PH-PHN game approached, and the Senior and Junior guys and girls participated in a tug-of-war. The Junior girls were victorious over the Senior girls in this event. The Pep Jug was obtained several times during the year as the high-spirited class yelled for victory. The Juniors led in planning of the second Big Red Week and presented their first place spook-house at the carnival.

The class of '69 chose as their Senior class officers, Bob Krupp, President; Sue French, Vice-President; Nancy Williams, Secretary; and Stuart Howe, Treasurer . . .

the beginning of the end . . .

Homecoming memories linger

The Seniors' last homecoming season was filled with excitement and many memories.

The Senior float, "Paddle the Bathers Sternly", took first place after all the work and fun that was put into it.

Seniors took time out daily to come and work with fellow classmates on their last constructed homecoming float of their high school years.

on through Senior year

Even though Mr. Verran isn't the biggest guy in our school, he still gets right in with the work and attempts to reach Darrel Scarberry all-the-way up the mighty 1st place float.

Even with all the work it takes to succeed in victory, the Seniors and teachers still find time for some clowning around.

The 1st place Senior float, "Paddle the Bathers Sternly".

Ten Senior girls volunteered to apply makeup to the Senior cast members. Here P. K. Mecham applies makeup to Dave Hrisca.

The cast proudly presents their gifts of great appreciation to their director, Mr. Charles Lutz, and student directors, Janet Nelson and Robert Krupp.

The last night and the last bows.

"Let's go to a sexy French movie--That part of my education has been sadly neglected."

"Yeah, whatta ya say, John? Let's warm her up, huh?"

What class has had the best Senior play? The question remains unanswered. All classes from the past and in '69 have put a lot of work into their productions. It took many hours, but the cast couldn't help but enjoy itself.

While Mr. Lutz, the play's director, constantly reminded the cast members to memorize their lines, Laurie Sanders diligently practiced her skipping for her leading part as Lisa.

Tryouts were open to all Seniors. Chosen for the 1969 Senior play, "David and Lisa" were: student directors, Janet Nelson and Bob Krupp; student producer, Mary Anne Wiegand; David Clemens, Bill Lewis; Mrs. Clemens, Sue Niebauer; Porter, Dennis Robertson; Secretary, Mary Ammerman; Dr. Alan Swinford, Joe Jehl; Mrs. Ferris, Lynn Appleford; Maureen Hart, Wendy Magneson; Josette, Pat Everitt; Carlos, Don Portis; Sandra, Jeanette Tenniswood; Simon, Ed Walker; Kate, Diane Palmateer; Lisa, Laurie Sanders; Barbara, Julie Martin; Robert, David Buffington; Ben, John O'Sullivan; Mr. Clemens, Dave Roodhouse; Girl, Lee Sasanella; Woman, Leta Richards; first boy, Dennis Robertson; and second boy, David Hrisca.

It not only takes a cast for a play, but many other people behind the curtains; such as the make-up committee, props, stage crew, publicity, tickets, and ushers.

"Let's go back to school now, Lisa . . . Take my hand."

Seniors gain experience

The Senior Steering Committee and student participation helped make '69 as great a class as it was. They helped, with success, to plan activities for the year and brought their high school years to a close.

Prior to the November '68 Presidential election, a student mock election was held, through planning by government teacher Mr. Robert Donoghue. Running for president was Bill Lewis with Bob Krupp selected by him for vice-president. Also running, Don Mellendorf for president with Bob Limberg for vice-president. Two separate conventions were held and the project proved a valuable experience for all Seniors.

through participation

Victorious in the election was the Free American Party consisting of Bill Lewis as President and Bob Krupp as Vice-President.

The Nationalist party was Don Mellendorf for President and Bob Limberg for Vice-President.

All students in Senior Problems of Democracy classes represent individual states and later cast electoral votes.

Above, Jackie Russell, John Woolman, Cliff Adams, and Judy Cook will always have memories of their high school years.

The future remains

The Senior Assembly creates sentiments for all students, and awards are given for outstanding achievements throughout the Seniors' four years of high school.

Memories

Class Motto:

Some men see things as they are, and say "why";
I dream things that never were and say "why not."

George Bernard Shaw

Class Flower:

Yellow Rose

Class Colors:

Light Blue and Silver

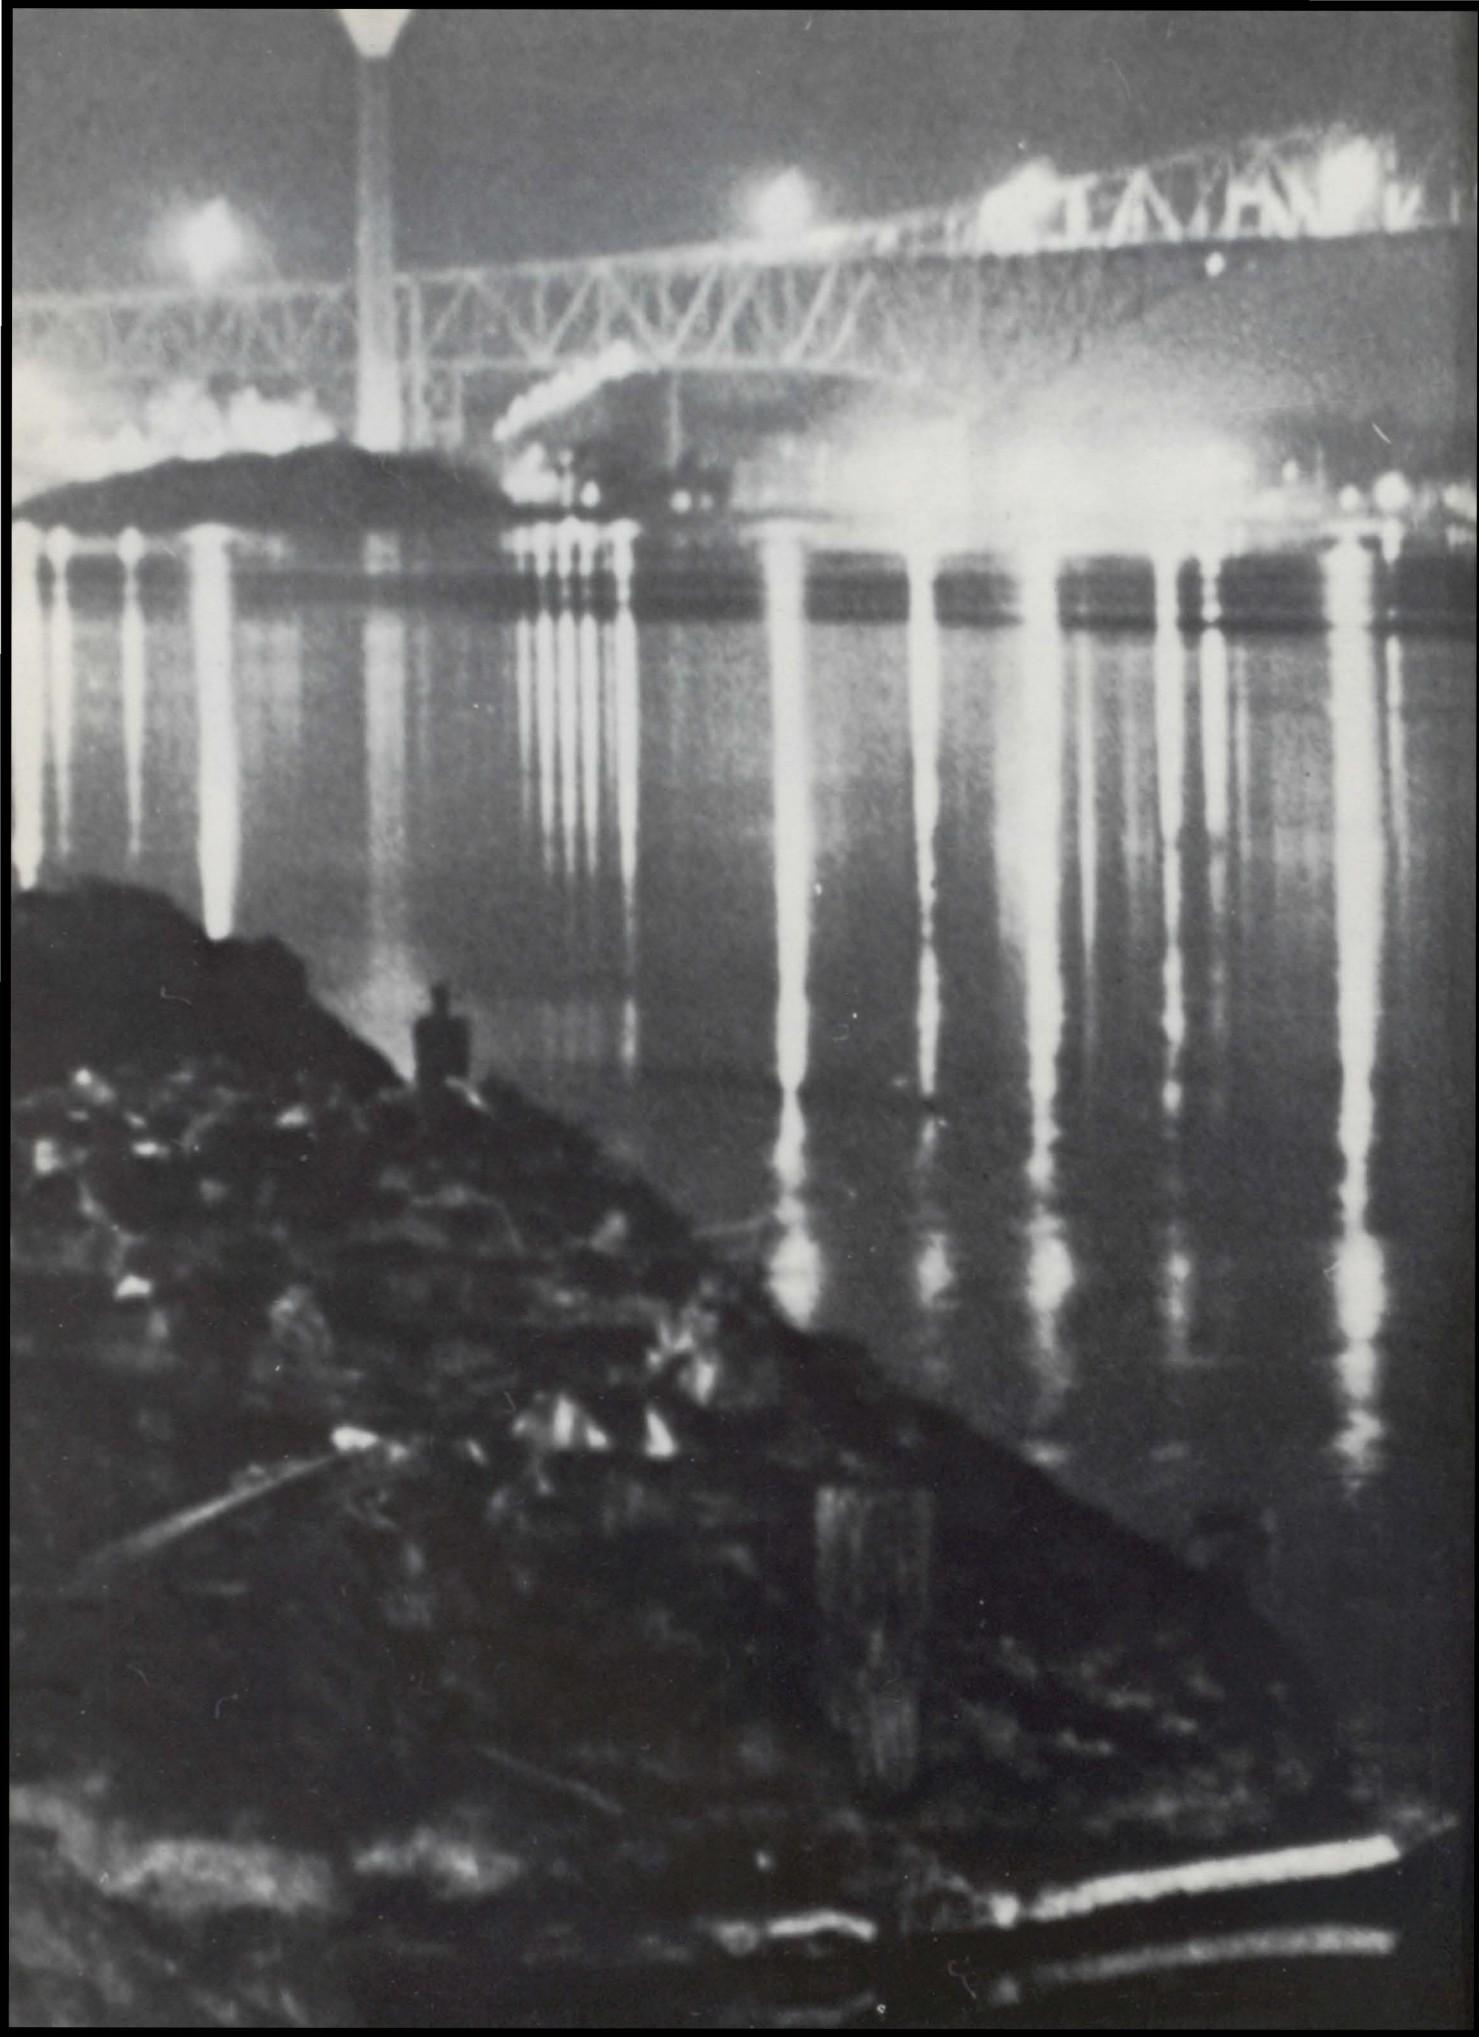

Fellow Senior Classmen,

It has indeed been a privilege for me to serve as president of our progressive class for the past two years. Looking back on the accomplishments of the class of '68, we can be proud of the legacy we are leaving. Our extravagant floats, our magnificent J-hop, and our crazy class projects, all add up to many fond memories. Members of our class initiated such innovations as ending senior exams, searching for the truth of our heritage, and seeking better student relationships.

Seeing that involvement has been the key to our success, I would hope that this would inspire many to accept the challenge of today. I suppose many past graduates had dreams of serving humanity, yet few have had the moral courage to meet this challenge. May God grant each of us the strength to meet that challenge to "seek a newer world".

Most sincerely,
Robert S. Krupp

From yesterday,
We look through today
At love and hope and beauty--
At tomorrow . . .
